EXPECT CUBAN INSURGENTS TO FORCE BATTLE

Decisive Engagement Seems Probable in Santa Clara Province

CLAMP ON CENSORSHIP
Machado Says Situation
"Not of Sufficient Importance to Mention"

Havana—(AP)—A decisive engagement between rebel and federal troops in Santa Clara province seemed today to be in the making as President Gerardo Machado delayed his return Havana.

Advices from the interior said 2-000 insurgents, of whom 1,500 were well-armed, were concentrated near Trinidad and already had engaged in minor skirmishes. The president changed his plans last night, after arrangements had been made for his departure.

The arrival in Santa Clara of Clemente Vazquez Bello, president of the senate, strengthened indications that an intensive battle was imminent.
Roads were carefully watched and the strictest censorship was clamped on news dispatches.

President Machado announced that the rebellion had been stamped out in every part of the island except Santa Clara and that the situation there was "not of sufficient importance to mention." The announcement, he said, was "indifferent to the revolution despite reports that the New York revolutionary junta, unintended to continue direction of the rebellion following the capture of Menocal and Mendota."

Continue Struggle
Havana, Aug. 17.—(AP)—The rebellion broke out in Havana and dropped newspaper pictures of former President Mario G. Menocal and Col. Carlos Mendota, who are imprisoned in Cuban fortress as leaders of the insurrection. Students circled the building, shouting the movement would continue despite the arrest of the chiefs.

Unconfirmed reports said an army lieutenant and 350 men had gone over to the opposition and that a boat named the Frederick II had landed on the south coast of Oriente province with 500 men, arms and ammunition.

Cuba generally was reported to be quiet except for occasional rumors of impending fighting. Havana continued calm despite oppositionist efforts to stir up ill-feeling against the government. The city of Santa Clara was tranquil in the face of loyalist troops estimated to number 4,000.

Col. Mendota is indisposed from the effects of his tramping through the interior and his family sought permission from General Alberto Herrera, army chief of staff, to send a personal physician to his side.

REBELS DESTROY BRIDGE
New York—(AP)—Leaders of the Cuban revolt in this country said today that rebel forces had blown up two bridges near Santa Clara City and disabled a branch railway between Trinidad and Pinaros.

Dr. Fernand Ortiz, vice president of the junta here, declared the revolutionary forces were making complete headway despite the capture of two of its leaders, former President Mario G. Menocal and Col. Carlos Mendota.

He said President Machado did not care to inflict severe punishment on the leaders in view of the uncertainty of the situation.

The revolt could continue for some time, Dr. Ortiz added. "We do not need money, except for guns and ammunition. The question of finance is much more important for the Machado government, since the government troops must be paid, while our fighters are all volunteers."

Dr. Ortiz said that the Cuban government tried to win the favor of American Ambassador Guggenheim by flattering him and allowing him to win first prize in a "rumba" contest at the Havana casino soon after his arrival.

Detroit Fliers to Follow Far North Trail Blazed by Cramer

Detroit—(AP)—Two Detroit bird-men today awaited only the weather man's signal to start a flight to Copenhagen over the far north route on which two other fliers disappeared nine days ago.

The aviators, Edwin L. Preston and Robert H. Colignon, the latter a radio operator as well as a pilot, were ready to take off during the day from the Detroit river with Cochrane, Ont., as the first stop.

The flight, sponsored by the trans-American Airlines Corp., has for its purpose establishment of an air mail, express and passenger route from Detroit to Denmark, by way of Canada, Greenland and Iceland.
It is in line with the corporation's announced plans of sending a plane over the northern route each month to prove feasibility of the service proposed.

Parker Cramer and Oliver Pac-quette, who took off from Detroit July 27 on the first survey flight, disappeared as they approached a remote section of the Norwegian coast last week.

Edwin G. Thompson, president of the corporation, was to leave early today for Cochrane, 415 miles distant, to meet the fliers there.

6 LIVES MENACED
BY TOLEDO BOMB

Windows of Home Shattered
But No Other Damage Done by Explosive

Toledo, Ohio—(AP)—Lives of six persons were endangered at 1245 E.
m. today when a bomb, described by police as of crude manufacture, exploded on the front porch of the home of Homer D. Frye, secretary of the Toledo Business Bureau.

The bomb shattered the windows of the house but did no other damage. No one was injured.

Frye's two daughters, Mary, 19, and Julia, 16, were asleep in a downstairs bedroom and were only about five feet from where the bomb exploded. Frye and his wife were sleeping in another room.

Mrs. Belle Hoffstadt and Mrs. Matie Klein, other occupants of the two family house, were sleeping in a room over the porch.

Police had no clues to the identity of the vandals. Frye said he had received no threats and knew of no one who might wish to kill him.

Detectives cited the secretary's activity in a recent cleanup against a Toledo business group as a possible clue to the bombing.

MRS. LA FOLLETTE IS REPORTED RECOVERING

Washington—(AP)—Mrs. Belle Case LaFollette, member of one of America's best known political families, was reported today as "resting easily" at Georgetown University hospital after an operation yesterday for intestinal trouble.

Mrs. LaFollette is the widow of the late senator from Wisconsin, and the mother of Senator Robert M. LaFollette and Gov. Philip F.
LaFollette of Wisconsin. Hospital attaches said Mrs. LaFollette was expected to recover.

Madison—(AP)—Gov. Philip LaFollette joined his brother, Sen. Robert M. LaFollette, at the bedside of his mother in Washington today.
She underwent an operation there yesterday.

Confined to his bed here with a cold infection, the governor decided late yesterday to go to Washington, because of his mother's illness.

A pair of crutches were procured, and he was flown to Chicago and thence to Cleveland where he boarded a train that brought him to Washington today.

CANNON SUMMONED BY BAR EXAMINERS BODY

Madison—(AP)—Raymond J. Cannon, Milwaukee, who was reinstated as an attorney by the 1931 legislature has been summoned to appear before the state board of bar examiners Friday, it was learned here today.

Mr. Cannon's right to practice law has been challenged by members of the Milwaukee bar. He was disbarred by the supreme court two years ago for professional misconduct but was reinstated by the legislature before the court took final action on his plea for reinstatement.

SWIMS BOPHORS STRAITS

Istanbul, Turkey—(AP)—Anita

ed States Ambassador Joseph C.
Grew, today swam the 19 miles of the Bosphorus straits from the Black sea to the Sea of Marmara in five hours.

OIL AND CEMENT GROUPS OPPOSE FREIGHT BOOST

Standard Official Suggests Surcharge of $5 a Car on Petroleum

Washington—(AP)—Oil and cement interests today protested against the proposed 15 per cent increase in railroad freight rates, with a representative of one oil company urging the interstate Commerce commission to use some other method of augmenting railroad revenues.

A. M. Stephens of Louisville, traffic manager for the Standard Oil company of Kentucky, suggested the addition of a surcharge of $5 a car on petroleum and petroleum products instead of a percentage increase which would destroy and distort commercial and community rate relationships.

F. E. Paulson of Allentown, Pa., vice president of the Lehigh Portland Cement company, predicted loss of traffic for the railroads if the cement rate was increased.

Stephens said the oil industry generally believed the railroads entitled to some sort of relief. His company, however, he said, believed the way as method had been proposed as far as oil was concerned. Profits of his concern last year, he added, were approximately what is saved by using other transportation methods than railroads.

Gasoline at the refinery, he said,
now costs about 3 cents a gallon with freight rates as much more.

More Revenue Needed
"This particular branch," Stephens said, "has no complaint to make against the efforts of carriers to obtain increased revenues, realizing that such increased revenue is necessary if they are to maintain their credit and operate their property safely and efficiently; in fact at a meeting with Central Freight association lines in Chicago on April 15 and with southern carriers in Atlanta on June 9 this company along with other major branches of the industry recorded their sympathetic attitude toward the rail carriers, both north and south, and manifested their cooperative support of the rail carriers' plans to retain for their rails the tank car petroleum traffic now moving to short haul stations."

This branch has a common interest with the carriers in "the carrier considering that it is more or less a pioneer in the southern trade with its many storage stations, some of which have been in operation for 35 or 40 years. For that reason the Kentucky company is reluctant to resort to the motor transport unless forced to do so."

Stephens said he spoke only for the Kentucky company, but suggested many others were "indifferent to the ultimate effect of the 15 per cent proceeding since they appear to have a permanent remedy in their hands against the ill-effects of the percentage increase in petroleum rates."

He said many companies lately had utilized trucks for short hauls and had begun using navigable rivers and pipe lines for long hauls to terminals they have established for localizing distribution at many stations formerly supplied by long haul rail transportation.

Responding to questions by Commissioner Meyer, Stephens said he believed much long haul traffic would stay with the railroads despite an increase in rates.

30 MILLION HOMELESS
IN CHINESE DISTRICTS

Hankow, China—(AP)—A carefully compiled survey in the hands of Chinese authorities indicated today that at least 30,000,000 persons were homeless and destitute in the 50 thirty-ninety districts in the 50 provinces hardest hit by the current Yangtze river flood.

The river bottoms area in Hupeh,
Anhui, Hunan and Honan provinces was named in the report as the hardest hit. The Yangtze remained well above the flood level here and only slightly under yesterday's record mark of 50 feet 5 inches. It receded half an inch today, reviving hopes that the crest of the flood, which started three weeks ago, had been reached.

TOLEDO BANK SITUATION
BELIEVED TO BE FIRM

Toledo, Ohio—(AP)—Toledo's remaining banks opened early today to inspire confidence of their depositors after the failure of four other banks to open yesterday morning. With millions in their vaults, the banks, opened as soon as the first trickle of patrons appeared. The Toledo Trust company and the First National bank opened at 7:30 a. m., an hour and a half before the customary time others also opened earlier than usual.

There were no crowds such as greeted the banks at the opening of business yesterday, however, and bankers were confident the situation was well in hand.

WYLIE IN RULING ON PURCHASE OF CHEESE

Says Buyers May Cease Call Board Trade to Give Committee a Chance

Madison—(AP)—Cheese buyers may legally cease purchasing on the Plymouth Call board in order to give the new cheese market committee an opportunity to function, Deputy Attorney General Fred M. Wylie ruled today in an opinion to Commissioner William Rank of the department of agriculture and markets.

The deputy attorney general voiced the opinion that the buying members of the board, who purchase about 75 per cent of Wisconsin's cheese, may cease buying even though the board is thereby compelled to suspend.

Last year representatives of the cheese industry named a committee of 15 to consider reorganization of the methods by which the price of cheese was set in Wisconsin and the nation. A cheese market committee of seven members was named and has been ready to function for the past month.

The Plymouth Cheese exchange and the Plymouth Cheese board have set the market price of cheese in Wisconsin for several years and have virtually set the price for the nation, in the opinion of department officials. The exchange agreed to suspend if the board would do likewise, but the latter refused.

At a meeting in Chicago, buyers on the board if they could do so legally. It was on this point that the deputy attorney general ruled today. The buyers represented at the meeting were Armour and Co., Swift and Co., Kraft-Phoenix Cheese Co., Felsit Corp., Lakes Ice Cheese Co.,
Cudahy and Co., Borden Co., C. A.
Straubel Cheese Co., Schmidt Bros.
Cheese Co., and the Atlantic and Pacific Tea Co.

TWO YOUTHS ADMIT HOLDUP AT MADISON

Madison—(AP)—Thomas Dunbar, 17, Sun Prairie, today confessed that he, with Norbert Blinstock, 17, also of Sun Prairie, robbed a filling station here last week. Sheriff Fred T. Flinn said. Characterized as "gentlemen bandits," the two youths held up G. B. Dodge, filling station attendant, and told him "we don't want anything—just his cash."
Dodge gave them $3.26 and they drove away.

VIRGINIA DARE'S 34TH

Fort Raleigh, N. C.—(AP)—The 34th anniversary of the birth of Virginia Dare, first child born of English parents in America, with a celebration here on the site of St. Walter Raleigh's ill-fated Roanoke island colony. The celebration climaxed "homecomings" week for Dare-co.

The river bottoms area in Hupeh,
Anhui, Hunan and Honan provinces was named in the report as the
well above the flood level here and

cord mark of 50 feet 5 inches. It receded half an inch today, reviving hopes that the crest of the flood,

Shut Down Or Go To Jail,
Edict In Texas Oil Area

Kilgore, Texas—(AP)—Mounted cavalrymen of the Texas National guard rode through the great Texas oil fields this morning carrying orders to operators the military ultimatum
"Shut down by noon or go to jail."

The order was issued by General Jacob F. Wolters, commander of the 55th brigade, who took military control of four east Texas counties at 5 o'clock a. m. yesterday morning under a martial law proclamation of Gov. Ross S. Sterling. The governor acted to stop production, until the state's new conservation laws can be put into action, of a field which oil men say has demoralized the industry through its overproduction.

Within 36 hours after occupation, troop officers anticipated the shutdown order would be practically 100 per cent effective.

Governor Sterling's action followed closely that of Gov. William

New York Governor Reveals Contents of Letter on River Project

Albany, N. Y.—(AP)—Governor
Roosevelt today made public contents of his letter to President Hoover in which he asked the president "to advise me of the status of the negotiations between the United States and Canada relating to the drafting of a treaty covering development of the St. Lawrence river in international section for navigation and power."

Mr. Roosevelt's request was based upon a letter he had received from Frank P. Walsh, chairman of the New York power authority, in which Mr. Walsh said it was "apparent" the United States and Canada intended to abandon the appointment of treaty commissioners and negotiate the waterways question through diplomatic channels.

The state department several days ago declared treaty negotiations with Canada had not been launched.

Mr. Roosevelt is understood to feel that the informal letter he received from Acting Secretary of State, bearing the salutation "Dear Frank," does not constitute an official reply to his formal letter to the president. The letter from Mr.
Castle made public in Washington yesterday, according to the government's office, bore the date Aug. 13, two days after the governor's letter was sent from Plattsburgh.

The New York governor dispatched his letter to Mr. Hoover while on his annual update inspection trip and a few days after he had conferred at Massena Point and in Montre-ux with Mr. Walsh and Delos M.
Cosgrove and Fred Freestone, members of the state power authority.
It was during this trip that the governor received word that treaty negotiations were under way. The governor has asked the president to name Mr. Cosgrove to the treaty body because of his familiarity with the state's $171,000,000 power project.

Political experts profess to see a possibility the present situation may bring the water power development theories and programs of Mr. Hoover and Mr. Roosevelt into bold relief because of the possibility they may face each other in the 1932 presidential campaign.

LEA DEFENSE ATTACKS
WITNESS OF STATE

Asheville, N. C.—(AP)—The defense hammered on cross-examination today at the testimony of W. S.
Coursey, the state's "clean-up" witness in the trial of Colonel Luke Lea, of Nashville, Tenn., and three others charged with defrauding the Central Bank and Trust company here of $1,300,000.

Going back over the stories of various financial deals which the state alleges were illegal, R. R. Williams, attorney for Lea sought to bring from Coursey testimony that the transactions were for the sole purpose of aiding the bank.

A coroner's jury was impaneled
today and an inquest planned. If the testimony so warrants, Kaufman will be charged with second degree murder, Dist. Atty. V. C. Lowlelan
stated.

SIX ARRESTED FOR DRY LAW VIOLATION

Marquette, Mich.—(AP)—Six Gogble-men were here today for arraignment on charges of violating the federal prohibition law.

John Boho, 37, Williams Jennings, John Haukka and George Gwerski, all of Ironwood, and James and Edward Hendrickson, Ramsey, were arrested last yesterday by Paul Nelson, deputy United States marshal, and federal prohibition officers.

Leaders of the industry praised Governor Sterling's action and said it, together with Governor Murray's shutdown should bring about an increase in the price of crude oil. The general top price now is 52 cents a barrel.

Seventy-four companies, including all the major concerns operating in the field, had closed down completely last night. Stated the oil men, the shutdown was not a threat but was still running, however, and it was to these points that cavalrymen were taking General Wolters' ultimum.

AMERICAN AVIATORS
PAY JAPANESE FINES

Pangborn and Herndon Still Awaiting Permit to Fly Over Pacific

Tokio—(AP)—Clyde Pangborn and Hugh Herndon, Jr., American aviators, today paid fines of $1,025 levied against each of them by the superior court here for taking photographs while flying over fortified Japanese areas.

Considering the incident closed, the American embassy, in behalf of the fliers, applied to the Japanese Aviation bureau for a permit enabling them to fly to Samushiro beach, northern Honshu island, where they plan to start a non-stop flight across the Pacific to Seattle.

A decision on the request will be made at a conference of home, foreign office and communications officials, probably in a few days, the embassy having asked that the matter be expedited.

Pangborn and Herndon studied plans for installing additional tanks to raise the fuel capacity of their plane from 700 to more than 900 gallons, although their plane still was under padlock at Tachikawa airbase, near here, pending the decision on the permit.

The Japanese foreign office regards the penalty imposed on the fliers as severe and favors granting the permit. The views of the other departments have not been made known.

The American fliers came here from Khabarovsk, Siberia, where they ended a projected round-the-world flight, started in New York.

CANTON FACTION IN FAVOR OF CONFLICT

Hongkong—(AP)—Irreconcilables in the independent Canton government apparently having prevailed, hopes for peace between Canton and the Nationalist government were vanishing today.

Newspaper reports now deny that any Canton faction ever favored peace. On the other hand, Chiang Kai-Shek, Nationalist president, has appointed General Chen Ming-Shu, commander of the famous Nineteenth Nationalist army, as "pacification commissioner" for Kwangtung province, of which Canton is the capital.

This was taken in Chinese circles here to mean that the Nationalists would attack. Reports reaching Canton said General Chen's troops were moving from Kiangsi into Fukien province. In the latter place their movement into Kwangtung, if ordered, would be easier than from Kiangsi.

Canton is sending reinforcements to Swatow, Kwangtung, near the Fukien border.

GREEN BAY MAN HELD
AFTER DEATH OF GIRL

Green Bay—(AP)—Archie Kaufman, 25, was held without charge in the county jail today following the death of Alice Gerikowski, 26, town of Eaton, who died last night in a local hospital about ten hours after returning from an all-night "party" with Kaufman.

According to physicians, death was due to a basal skull fracture which Kaufman claims the girl received in a fall. Her left shoulder was bruised and physicians were unable to state whether she had been assaulted.
pending the return of test sides sent to Madison. While Kaufman has admitted being with the girl most of the night, according to police, he has not admitted striking her and has not confessed a criminal assault, although he has not denied it.

A coroner's jury was impaneled
today and an inquest planned. If the testimony so warrants, Kaufman
will be charged with second degree
murder, Dist. Atty. V. C. Lowlelan
stated.

EX-MEMBER OF BOARD SAYS ALL WOULD BENEFIT

Opportunity at Hand for Disposing of Surplus During Next Winter

LISTS ADVANTAGES Declares Government Could Economize in Payments for Supplies

Lincoln—(AP)—Sam R. McKelvie, former member of the Federal Farm board, today suggested that wheat now owned by the Grain Stabilization corporation be made available for emergency food relief. Mc-Kelvie was the wheat representative on the board.

In a statement given newspapermen
the former Nebraska governor said "I have insisted all along and still insist that for the good of all parties—most of all the farmer—the sooner stabilization supplies of wheat are disposed of the better.
The opportunity is at hand."

"The federal government will be obliged to join with the cities, the counties, and state and the agencies of voluntary relief in feeding millions of people this winter," Mc-Kelvie asserted. "With vast numbers of these it cannot be a matter of loans. It must be gifts of food."
wheat and possibly housing. The food is available in the form of wheat and there is no better food.

"No one who has access to plenty of flour, milled wheat, whole wheat or bread is going to starve. And there is an abundance of wheat.
The stabilization corporation has it stored in all parts of the United States. It can be distributed, freight paid, to local agencies and passed on to the needy. It should not be given sold to anyone who is able to buy.
It should be used purely and solely as food relief."

Benefits of Plan
He listed the following as advantages of his proposal:

"The government having the wheat and being obliged to dispose of it, could economize in its expenditures for food relief supplies. There would be the minimum of cost for distribution. Many mills cooperating with their local relief agencies should be glad to do the grinding at cost. Many bakeries would do the same."

"It would avoid the practical aspects of local action. It would involve no gifts or loans of cash."
"It would be the finest investment ever made in advertising to encourage a return to the large use of wheat for food. This is due the wheat grower after the injury that was done his business during the last 'less wheat' campaign of war days."

"It would get rid of at least a part of our domestic surplus of wheat, and afford a means that should be agreeable to all for the disposition of stabilization supplies."

Avoid "Fantastic Short-Cut" To Solve Problems--Jahncke

TELLS LEGION IT MUST HELP MEET ISSUES

Urges Vets to "Preserve Birthright of American Individualism"

Chippewa Falls, (P)—Having heard E. L. Jahncke, assistant secretary of the navy, warn against "turning to any fantastic short-cut leading only to a mirage," in attempts to solve present day problems, members of the American Legion, Department of Wisconsin, today entered upon the business of their convention.

As entertainment features continued, other speakers came before the assembled legionnaires, who missed hearing the state's "first buddy," Gov. Philip F. LaFollette. He was to have addressed them yesterday, but was unable to appear because of an infected foot.

Jahncke, speaking before a joint meeting of the legion and its women's auxiliary, told the members they must reeducate themselves "to the important peacetime task of keeping the American republic true to its ideals of equal opportunity for all."

"American ideals and American principles are challenged during these times of depression by Marxian Socialistic concepts urging themselves as cure-alls."

"You have a civic responsibility to preserve for your children and your children's children the birthright of American individualism. It is your task as patriotic citizens to discern the true from the false and political quackery from true idealism."

"In finding our way out of present conditions, we must turn our energies not to any fantastic short-cut leading only to a mirage but to the concrete problem of making our world a better place in which to live."

Calling Legion Big Asset

"It is reassuring to know," there is such a body as the American Legion. It is the greatest asset which came from the World War. As long as it exists, we need have no fear that the American way of living will be successfully assailed."

The depression he blamed directly on overproduction resultant from conditions arising during the World War. He said 20,000,000 of the best producers of the nation were taken from their fields at that time and American ingenuity developed machinery to replace those workmen through necessity.

Then, he said, with the conclusion of the war, these persons were returned to a nation already capable of production above necessity.

Only through an adjustment of shorter hours with wages maintained, Mr. Jahncke said, would the nation be able to recover normality individually.

"I ask of you," he said, "as a matter of common patriotism to give your president, the commander in chief of forces fighting this depression, the same loyal support you demonstrated in wartime."

K. of G. PLANS ARE MAPPED BY CARMODY

Arrangements Being Made for Fifteenth Anniversary at Washington

French Lick, Ind. (P)—Martin H. Carmody of Grand Rapids, Mich., supreme knight, in his address today to the forty-ninth annual supreme council meeting of the Knights of Columbus, outlined plans for the fifteenth anniversary meeting to be held next year in Washington.

At the anniversary session, he said, a monument to the late James Cardinal Gibbons, archbishop of Baltimore, will be unveiled.

The supreme knight reviewed the charitable activities of the order during the past year. "In compliance with a resolution adopted last year," he said, "substantial relief has been given to members of the order and others in the drought stricken areas of Kentucky, Missouri and Montana."

From three other jurisdictions applications were presented, but in these cases after investigation it was determined to the satisfaction of the local officers that the emergency relief contemplated by the order's policy was not applicable. While every request was properly investigated, I am pleased to report that all cases requiring emergency relief were promptly cared for and generally before other agencies began to function."

During the year the order has maintained a central bureau of employment at the headquarters in New Haven, Conn., Mr. Carmody said, and up to July 23, 1931, had made 48,128 recorded placements in jobs.

Mr. Carmody said the economic depression had militated against membership in the order but nevertheless nine jurisdictions, widely separated had increased their number of members.

MILWAUKEEANS FLY TO FREEDOM FOR VISIT

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gehler of Milwaukee flew to Freedom Sunday afternoon and visited at the George Huss home. Mrs. Gehler formerly was Miss Hazel Huss. Another plane started on the hop with the Gehlers, but ran out of gas at Oshkosh and in a forced landing was damaged and unable to take off.

Among the people who visited at the Huss home during the day were Mr. and Mrs. Nick Kiefer and family, Sylvester Kiefer, Miss Sally Newell, Green Bay, and Mrs. Harold Newhouse, Mrs. John Huss, Mrs. Mike Huss and daughters Stella and Isabel.

Miss Josephine McCarthy, Milwaukee, is spending a two week vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mike McCarthy, Grand Chute.

Brothers Reunited After 60 Years

Sixty years ago, when James N. Tisdale sailed from Glasgow, Scotland, for America, he bade good-bye to the dock to his "kid" brother, Henry. They never saw each other again until the other day when, as pictured here, Henry (left), 77, and James (right), 82, were reunited at Chester, Pa.

Hunters Here Divided On Closing Of Duck Season

Appleton sportsmen who enjoy duck hunting are divided in their opinions as to what effect the proposal of the federal department of agriculture to close the duck hunting season entirely will have in improving existing conditions. The sportsmen are agreed, however, that if the government takes this step as a conservation measure that they will be in accord with the move, because they favor any movement which will help to better conditions. Although the open season on ducks already has been shortened two weeks in Wisconsin, the federal department is seriously considering the closing of the season entirely. The reason for this movement is that millions of wild ducks come from Canadian, breeding grounds ordinarily, but due to the drought in the breeding grounds the numbers are considerably reduced. Biologists who have made tours of inspection through these areas declare the grounds have been 88 per cent dried up during the last two years.

Individual sportsmen and large duck shooting clubs have already written many letters expressing willingness to forego their hunting this year as an emergency measure and although no definite action has yet been taken, H. P. Sheldon, U. S. chief of the division of bird and game conservation, is strong in voicing his opinion that the emergency warrants the closed season.

Moreover, he has stated that several years of careful control will be necessary before the flocks will regain their former numbers.

Some hunters here claim that to close the season will have little or no effect because the illegal hunters will continue their depredations anyway. These men point out that the reduction of the numbers of wild fowl is due to many hunters' "kill-crazy" ideas of sport. They point out that these men will keep on shooting as long as there is anything alive to shoot at. The only way to end this unnecessary and needless slaughter is to keep up with a program of education which will make these men see that they are not only spoiling their own future chances for the sport but that they also are spoiling other hunters' chances.

"Everytime we want to stop something we pass a law," said one hunter. "You can't stop this slaughter of ducks by laws. You must educate the hunters. Kill only the number permitted by law, or even less if the number is sufficient for your needs."

APPLETON COUPLE BACK FROM TRIP TO EUROPE

Mr. and Mrs. Moritz Heinemann, 403 N. Bennett-st., returned Monday night from Europe where they have been traveling since last May. They visited relatives in Switzerland, Austria, and Czechoslovakia. Other countries they traveled through include Italy, Germany, France, and Ireland. They sailed May 15 on the "St. Louis" accompanied by their niece, Miss Bonita Heinemann, of South Dakota.

TWO HANSON CABS ROBBED BY NEGROES IN NEW YORK CITY

New York (P)—New York—sophisticated and modern—had two hansom cab robberies today.

The cabs, each drawn by a horse in polished harness and with a high-backed cabby lording it from the front seat, were following their rubber-tired way through Central park early today. Only the well-mannered trot of the city-shod horses and the occasional cluck from the driver broke the park silence.

Two couples enjoying the lark suddenly were halted by Negroes with guns and their money and jewels taken from them.

Marie Lambert, 21, of New York, and George Brumicombe, 25, of Cleveland, were victims of the first robbery, Brumicombe losing $13 in cash and the young woman a $250 diamond ring.

Shortly afterward robbers took a $1500 wrist watch from Florence Brockett, New York, and a small amount of cash from her escort, Fred Suydam. Walter Donn, their cabby, lost $15.

Hansom cabs, so popular before motor cars usurped their trade, still operate in New York, especially near Central park where older people with memories and young people with curiosities patronize them.

RACING MARKS ARE LOWERED AT SEYMOUR FAIR

Many Close Horse Races Run During Monday's Program

BY W. F. WINSEY

Seymour—Lowering of race track records by a half dozen pacers and trotters was the sensation of Monday at the Seymour fair. In fact the old record of 2:12 was lowered several times during the last two days. The best time Monday was a mile paced in 2:07 and three-quarters by Bar None, B. G., owned by W. H. Duffy, Mankato, Minn. This horse's other heats were paced in 2:09 and 2:09. This record is wonderful," declared Booster Thomas, Marshfield, the starter, "and it will probably stand for some time."

Slamfast, R. G., owned by Dr. Krembs, Stevens Point, Wis., paced a mile in 2:09 and three-quarters. The other heats were in 2:10 and 2:11.

J. C. W. B. G., owned by Chandeleas and Olmstead, Iron River, Mich., paced a mile in 2:10. McKinney Scott, B. M., Luxemburg Horseman's club, paced a mile in 2:12. True Guy, B. G., owned by Hugh McGee, Pulaski, trotted a mile in 2:11.

All the races were sharply fought with the horses often in groups as they struggled for first place on the track. The magnitude of the track events is shown by the fact that 47 horses were entered in six races.

The first race was called on at 12:30 and the last heat of the last race was completed at 6:30 p. m.

The races were a 2:22 pace in two divisions; a 2:14 pace in two divisions; and 2:17 trot in two divisions. Slamfast won the 2:22 pace, second division in three straight heats. The time was 2:10, 2:09, and 2:11.

Oscar Meisler, Appleton, was fined $20 and costs by Judge Theodore Berg in municipal court this morning when he pleaded guilty of drunkenness. Meisler was arrested about 2:30 this morning by Sheriff John Lappen as he slept in his car in the farm yard of Edward Schneider, town of Grand Chute. SEEK TRIO IN ATTACK MADE ON REPORTER

Harlan, Ky., Preparing for Murder Trial on Coal Field Disorders

Harlan, Ky. (P)—Harlan circuit court disposed of minor cases today while county officers investigated the wounding of a press correspondent yesterday and plans went forward for the first trial tomorrow of a murder charge arising from coal field disorders.

Boris Israel, 21, former Ohio State university student serving as a correspondent for the Federated Press, with labor papers among his clients, is in the Pineville hospital with a bullet wound in the leg. He said he was shot by three men who took him in an automobile to the city limits of Harlan and ordered him out of town.

Israel said he was talking to a deputy sheriff at the courthouse door when the three men approached and forced him into their automobile. Sheriff J. H. Blair said he would question the deputy in an effort to learn the identity of the men. Israel, who will be in a hospital for a week, said he thought he would recognize them if he saw them again.

The correspondent was the second newspaperman to be wounded during the labor troubles here. Last month Bruce Crawford, editor of a Norton, Va., paper, was shot in the foot as he was crossing a bridge here. He left Harlan in a bus after officers warned him it would be dangerous for him to drive through the county in his automobile. The ambush shooting of Crawford is one of the crimes being investigated by the grand jury empaneled yesterday, which resumed its deliberations today.

Commonwealth's Attorney W. A. Brock said he planned to seek trial

Those given the change of venue notice include Asa Cusick, Evans police chief, and A. L. Benson, assistant chief. One of the murder defendants not served is Joe Carwood, Evans town trustee, indicating he will be tried in Harlan. Murder charges resulting from several shootings are on file against 39 men.

Supervisors Discuss Tax Reduction Steps At Summer Meeting

ROAD BOARD PROMISES TO CUT PROGRAM

Highway Committee Will Seek No Funds for Snow Removal, It Reports

The county board, at a special mid-summer meeting this morning at the courthouse, turned its attention to reduction of taxes.

Voicing the sentiment of the county highway committee, F. R. Appleton, highway commissioner, told the board that his department is planning to do its share toward a tax reduction program by asking only a one mill instead of a two mill tax for highway purposes next November. This reduction will mean a saving of around $90,000, Mr. Appleton said.

As a further expression of its willingness to do its part in the reduction program, the highway committee presented a report in which it pointed out that it did not intend to ask for an appropriation for snow removal equipment for use next winter. Neither does it intend to ask for an appropriation for snow removal purposes as it expected it would be able to do the work with the funds available.

The highway committee report stated that it is planning these curtailments because of the depression because of the fact that many taxpayers are in serious financial condition, particularly the farmers who have suffered greatly on account of the present drought. The report further pointed out that the county is now on hand about $13,000, remaining from the snow removal appropriation of last year. This will be supplemented with approximately $5,700, which the county will receive from the state in payment for funds expended in keeping state roads open last winter. The committee said it thought this sum would be sufficient for next winter, unless an unusually severe winter is experienced.

Leads Sound Keynote

The keynote of the meeting was sounded by A. W. Leach, chairman from the town of Green Chute, who declared that the board should begin immediately to make plans for cutting taxes next fall. He said every taxpayer in towns, cities and villages is looking for a reduction, and that the board should be ready to supply it. He asked for an explanation of the distribution of funds which will be realized from the federal state gas tax and said that before the law was passed it was his understanding that a part of the money received by the county could be used to pay off existing highway bonded indebtedness.

Some members of the board declared that Mr. Leach's conception was wrong and Stanley A. Stalid, district attorney, was called on to give an explanation of the law. After a long discussion on the various points of the law a special committee was appointed to study the law and report this afternoon, when the board resumed its meeting. This committee is to attempt to determine just what aid the county will receive under the new law and how the money can be spent.

Another report from the highway committee revealed that on Aug. 15 the department has had fund balances totaling $155,026.25. Two deficits, however, total $21,541.84. These deficits are: addition to county garage, $961.97; and county machinery fund, $20,579.87. The deficit in the latter fund was caused, Mr. Appleton explained, by a book-keeping system under which the machinery fund is charged rental for the use of all equipment. The rent fund now has a balance of $40,589.01, which really means the county has a balance of over $20,000 with which to purchase new machinery.

Other Balances

Other highway fund balances were reported as follows: state patrol fund, $33,382.15; county patrol fund, $38,876.42; and wall removal, $5,236; snow removal, $13,070.24; bridge construction, $9,180; county and town aid construction, $384.15; county aid bridges, $799.17; town roads and village streets, $1,778.35; emergency bridge fund, $5,470.78.

A petition from the Appleton city council, asking the county board to aid in a movement to have Highway 10 rerouted over Badger-ave in Appleton, was referred to the county highway committee. A resolution of condolence was passed on the death of the county clerk, Supervisor John Tracy, Appleton.

Another petition, from several Kaukauna supervisors, asked that a special appropriation of $5,000 made by the board for the improvement of Highway 55 in Kaukauna, be transferred for the improvement of County Trunk Z in that city. This appropriation was no longer necessary because the state is taking care of the Highway 55 project.

A committee, appointed to investigate the feasibility of purchasing a "liability" for the district attorney's office, was given more time to complete the proposition.

The supervisors adopted a report from the highway committee in which it pointed out that an investigation of the C. R. Meyer and Sons Construction company's employment of men on the new bridge under construction at Kaukauna, revealed that county men are being given preference.

Last spring Supervisor William Powers, Kaukauna, berated the Meyer company and demanded an investigation of the firm and its methods in employing men. He charged local men were not being given preference, as the company promised it would do when it received the contract. The highway committee's report showed that of 61 men on the job, 26 are from Kaukauna and 35 are from other parts of the county. Only eight men from out of the county were employed and these were members of a working force, necessary on a job of this kind, the report said. Supervisor Leach made a plea with the town chairman to adopt set-back line ordinances in their own hands. He pointed out that plans for the construction of another viaduct, with accompanying big damage claims from farmers whose lands would be touched, brought vicinity to the front the need for set-back line laws. He said such laws today would prevent further claims of this kind in the future. He pointed out that there is little or no trouble or expense in the adoption and enforcement of such a provision and said most towns should take advantage of the county ordinance which permits them to establish such limits.

A store and residence building at Dale belonging to Frank Bellinger was partially destroyed by fire started before noon Tuesday. The blaze started in the kitchen of the residence of Victor Zachow, who operates a store in one part of the building and lives in another, as Mrs. Zachow prepared to get the noon meal. She was cooking on a gasoline stove, it is said, and the stove exploded, setting fire to the kitchen and upper part of the building. Mr. Bellinger also lives in the building.

Dale and Hortonville fire departments were called and soon extinguished the fire. Most damage to the building was from water. The loss is partially covered by insurance.

On previous occasions the loot taken also consisted of cash of about the same amount.

HOOVER TO GET FIGURES ON U. S. ECONOMY DRIVE

Data Submitted to Budget Bureau With Estimates of Current Needs

Washington (AP)—President Hoover will have laid before him soon the results of the latest effort of federal departments to enforce rigid economy in government operation. Cabinet members and agency chiefs have submitted to the bureau budget reports on the amount of money remaining from appropriations for preceding years and for the present fiscal year along with estimates of current needs.

In making these reports, government officials are carrying out Mr. Hoover's request to reduce expenditures where possible in view of the declining federal revenues and the large treasury deficit. After holding conferences with cabinet members in May and June on economy methods, the chief executive demanded in July that they "eliminate or postpone all activities such as may be so treated without serious detriment to the public welfare."

The reports are to be studied by Director Hooper of the budget before being sent to Mr. Hoover. They are compiled as rapidly as possible in an effort to determine how far expenditures are running ahead of treasury receipts.

July letter that expenditures were greater during the first few days of the new fiscal year than those of last year, when a total of $4,219,500,000 was expended. He had expected that $150,000,000 would be saved as a result of his conferences with department heads, but noted that as a result of increased appropriations the new demands were being made on the treasury.

Impressing the officials with the urgent need for economy, Mr. Hoover told them the government's financial situation was serious. The government ended the fiscal year July 1 with a $903,000,000 year July deficit. The six weeks since then a new deficit of $2,271,150 has materialized. It represents an outlay of about $115,000,000 in excess of expenditures for the same period last year.

In the new year, the treasury has collected $161,936,341 and has expended $502,327,494. Income taxes, which fell off $550,000,000 last year have continued the decline with $59,613,339 being collected in the past six weeks compared with $78,087,185 in the same period last year.

JACK, ESTELLE BOTH STARTING DIVORCE SUITS

Film Star Files in Los Angeles After Ex-champ Sues at Reno, Nev.

Los Angeles (AP)—Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight boxing champion of the world, and his actress wife, Estelle Taylor, have resorted to the divorce courts to settle their differences after weeks of sparring by their legal representatives over a property settlement.

Dempsey filed suit yesterday in Reno, Nev., charging mental cruelty. Soon after Miss Taylor heard of his action, she instructed her attorneys to file for a divorce here, also charging cruelty.

With Nevada divorce laws not requiring details of charges on which divorces are sought, particulars of Dempsey's petition were not available. In Miss Taylor's complaint, drawn up last night and admitted by her, she made general charges of cruelty and referred to the expensive automobile which she recently said was taken from her chauffeur by Joe Dempsey, brother of Jack, who gave her the car as a present.

The complaint will charge that Dempsey "for a long time prior to the date of separation has been guilty of extreme cruelty and his conduct toward the plaintiff in that he has wrongfully inflicted upon plaintiff grievous mental pain and suffering without justification or excuse."

Miss Taylor and Dempsey were married at San Diego, Feb. 7, 1925. The date of separation was given as March 11, 1931.

Miss Taylor discussed the negotiations with a property settlement which until yesterday were said by attorneys to have been holding up the separation suit.

Charges "Temperament"

It was Jack's fault, she said—his "display of temperament"—when her attorney insisted that he post collateral to guarantee payments to her of $1,000 a month for three years and four months.

"It was such a little thing that I insisted upon," she said. "A property agreement had been reached, and it suited Jack. My great devotion to him was what caused me to ask so little. He is always saying he is broke, and I wanted to be as easy as possible on him."

"I asked only $40,000, not a penny more. Out of that amount, I hoped to take care of a $12,500 mortgage on my home, to complete payments on my automobile and to pay attorney fees. The few thousand dollars that would be left would keep up the house for a year or less, until I could sell it."

"Jack agreed to that, but when my attorney, Joseph Scott, insisted that Jack guarantee his promise to pay the monthly installments by putting up its equivalent in collateral, a trust fund in his Barbara corporation, Jack blew up and all our negotiations ended."

"Now I can only repeat that as long as there is going to be a divorce in the family, I am going to be the one to get it."

Robert E. Burns, attorney for Dempsey, said whatever action Miss Taylor takes in California will not prevent Dempsey from going through with his suit.

Burns denied a charge by Scott, that a property settlement agreed upon by the couple had been upset by the divorce action commenced by Dempsey.

Prospective LaFollette Heir Holds Attention

BY DOROTHEA J. LEWIS (Post-Crescent's Washington Society Editor)

Washington—The prospective heir or heiress as the times make it, of Sen. and Mrs. Robert M. LaFollette, Jr., of Wisconsin proved of great interest in Washington, being front page news here as well as in Wisconsin.

There never are many senate babies. The coming LaFollette baby is of double interest because the LaFollette are the youngest of the senate crowd. Mrs. LaFollette is a Washington and Virginia girl, well known here.

The new baby will have country surroundings to grow up in, both in Wisconsin, where the senator and his wife live at the LaFollette farm near Madison when they are at home, and in Washington, where they live at a historic Virginia farm, not far from Mount Vernon. The 200-year-old house is not yet restored to liveable condition, but doubtless will be in time for the youngster to spend his—or her—first spring in the lush hills of Virginia, on 90 acres where nobody else need disturb its peace and freedom.

Only when the terrific heat wave broke in the middle of the week were

The Secretary of Commerce, Robert Patterson Lamont, will return to Washington at the end of August from his summer place at Westbury Farm, Land o' Lakes, Wis. Mrs. Lamont and their daughter, Mrs. Charles Eskridge Saltzman, will remain longer.

The United States Minister to Haiti, Dr. Dana G. Munro, and Mrs. Munro are on a vacation in the United States. Dr. Munro is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, and Mrs. Munro is from Fond du Lac. They will visit Washington and Princeton, N. J. It is not known as yet whether they will go to Wisconsin.

Dr. Stanley R. Hornbeck, chief of the division of far eastern affairs, department of state, entertained at luncheon at the Carlton Hotel Tuesday. He is formerly of the University of Wisconsin, where he won his Ph. D. degree and also taught.

BALLISTICS AND CRIME

While the Michigan public is in a state of impotent rage that its laws do not permit the summary execution of the fiends who perpetrated the murder of four young people near Ann Arbor, there is some hope that extensive publication of the methods used in solving the crime and forcing confessions, may have a discouraging effect upon other criminals who underestimate the value of human life.

In this case science was the keen, unswerving bloodhound on the trail. The murderers' tracks were followed with a speed and precision that inspires a paean of triumph and thankfulness in the hearts of all law-abiding citizens.

The mystery, which had balked the efforts of four police agencies for nearly forty-eight hours, unraveled swiftly after the first break, just as soon as science got a toe hold. That a new day is here in crime detection is heralded by the fact that the discovery which led to the denouement was made, not by detectives on the ground, but in a laboratory thirty miles away.

It was the science of ballistics that did the job. Bullets were found in the charred remains of one of the boys. A suspicious gun was discovered. The microscope and scientific knowledge of firearms matched the two and the trail was thenceforth clear, open and unmistakably distinct.

It is well-nigh impossible to do murder by gun-fire without leaving a host of clues as clear as a printed page to the modern firearms expert.

From the bullet alone he can tell the type and caliber of the weapon used, its maker and the maker of the projectile.

No gun barrel has ever been found so perfectly finished that it will not mark its projectile in a manner that will enable the expert to bring bullet and gun together and match them with certainty.

Nor has a breech lock ever been made so smooth that it will not leave impressions, just as characteristic, on the head of a shell kicked against it by the tremendous force of the exploding powder charge.

The extensive adoption by the police of the science of ballistics in the detection of crime will be a material aid in its prevention simply because it exposes the criminal and demonstrates to him that murder will still out.

As for the unintelligent, hooch-imbibing, irresponsible beast, he, too, may have even his dumb sensibilities aroused by the clear trail made to his own neck by the murderous bullet from his gun.

GENEROSITY

When a generous gesture is made with dollars, instead of words, it deserves to be listed with noble impulses. There are entirely too many cases of sticky sentimentalism for which laurel wreaths are plaited and press notices are given. But when you get a green-back version of unselfishness it is fairly reliable.

Last year a bank in Vineland, N. J., failed. School children lost $37,000. The money which they had earned in mowing lawns and shoveling snow and wiping dishes vanished. The round silver dollars that were special birthday gifts, and the quarters that had been saved when they wanted to see a movie and didn't were completely gone.

Colonel Evan O. Kimble, the head of another financial institution in the same city, knew what the reaction of those youngsters would be. They would decide that you couldn't trust savings accounts. They would buy caramels and gumdrops and go to movies and ball games whenever they had any money. They would come to the decision that the wisest thing to do is to spend your money before something happens to it.

Colonel Kimble realized that boys and girls who held this attitude could n't train for the best citizenship. Therefore, from the coffers of his own bank, he dragged out the money bags and restored to each child the sum that he had lost.

Certainly the children who had preferred another bank to his didn't expect such largesse. But they are going to remember it. They are going to realize that fair play and generosity still make up a big part in life, or else a benefactor would not have made such a gift.

There are those who will say that the bank acted as a benefactor because it is counting on the profits which will accrue from the new accounts that will be opened. But such accounts will be small, at best. It will be a long time until the boys and girls will be making noticeable sums of money. The money which the bank could have loaned would have done more for it financially than the new accounts can do.

Colonel Kimble is representative of the type of business men who are putting a conscience in their work. He realized that it is just as important to teach future citizens that the financial backing with which they deal is secure as it is to encourage them to send their coin to India's starving millions.

Colonel Kimble made a solid contribution to citizenship. He deserves to be mentioned.

THE END IS IN SIGHT

Thanks to Wilbur Glenn Voliva, the imperious Solomon of Zion whom no one would think of disputing, indeed, who has already discovered for the ignorant millions that the world is quite flat, we are to have the beginning of the millennium in 1935.

There will be, says our oracle, "a final great war" and it will be a hum-dinger.

So long as the end, for which mankind has waited so long and prayerfully and been fooled so often by unappointed prophets, must come, it is good to have things terminate in one great splashing, spectacular, catastrophic war, the earth trembling from the detonations of gigantic cannon, the heavens alight with a myriad of starry flares, machine guns blithely spitting lead, aeroplanes diving and soaring, bugles blowing, cavalry dashing and infantry charging, every place no man's land, and no one caring a snap because everything will soon be over anyway.

Mr. Voliva says, "200,000,000 soldiers will be gathered. This is quite disappointing. We had expected at least twice as many."

Russia will "march its great army against Palestine," continues the sage. Why should the Goddess assault the one spot that might be termed the very cradle of religion? To be reconverted?

Mussolini will head ten kingdoms in central Europe but against whom he will fight Mr. Voliva has failed to make clear. We hope he doesn't also take a stab at Palestine. Those are going to be hard days for Jews and Moslems.

In the third division in this awful affair will be "England, United States and South America" but again the oracle misses a beat for he tells us not whom we are to fight. Perhaps we will be expected to slaughter one another. We know it is asking a great deal to expect all the details at once but everyone is naturally curious.

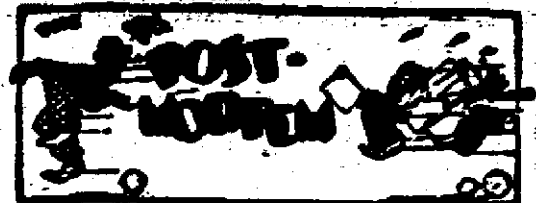

This same gentleman predicted the end of the world in 1923. Later he put the magic year as 1927. Still later he proclaimed that 1930 was the final mark. But this time he means business.

General von Ludendorff with his simple prediction of a miserable little war in Europe involving, like the last, only a few millions, is just a back number, an old fogey. He must now be speechless.

FOOD AND DRUG ACT

A few days ago the bureau of chemistry, in the department of agriculture, celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of the federal pure food and drug act. It was signed June 20, 1906. It was a Hoosier, Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, who led the crusade against the practice of misbranding foods and drugs and fought for the bill, and when it was signed he, as the nation's chief chemist, was designated as its enforcing officer. Reputable food and drug concerns had nothing to fear, but those engaged in questionable practices knew it meant either destruction of their business or obedience to the law. Through the twenty-five years that the law has been in effect more than 13,000 actions have been instituted and thousands of foods and drugs, obviously misbranded, have had to go off the market or be changed. To Dr. Wiley's fight Indiana gave her moral support. Dr. J. N. Hurty, who was the health commissioner, was one of the strongest advocates of the legislation. Now most of the states have similar laws and the consumer may purchase foods and drugs in original containers, secure in the knowledge that the labels give a truthful statement of what they contain. Dr. Wiley is dead but the good he did will endure.

THE CUBAN revolt is supposed to be suppressed now. . . . If the rebels had waited for weather they might have won the hardest thing. . . . or else prolonged it. . . . wonder who's next in line? . . . Central America has been quiet for some little time. . . . well, the natives down there probably haven't seen any of the new hats. . . .

It's all ready begun—this business of asking us—"Oh, were you away?" and "You've only been gone a week, haven't you?" "Got sunburned, didn't you?" (And we thought it was tan.)

Anyway, we're sure the vacation is over.

Heat wave or no heat wave, there apparently will be bumper crops. And everyone is worrying about it. What a country. We have too much food so charity has to get busy hunting for food for the starving Americans. There's too much this 'n' that so half the population has to go without this 'n' that.

And when there isn't enough of anything, people are happy and everyone gets along fine.

Mahatma Gandhi isn't going to London in his loin cloth after all. He says God told him not to.

Probably so, but maybe the Mahatma heard about the English meals.

Amalgamated Gadgets apparently went on a vacation, too, but they've done what we wanted to do—not bother to come back to work for months and months.

With the big league baseball championships about settled, the radio sportsmen can spend their afternoons sleeping. If they choose, waiting for the world's serious to come around.

But we were talking about civil wars and revolutions and such a ways back. And for once, the Latin countries can take the background in business of raising hell at home.

Yep, the Irish have been having battles between themselves all week. And when a bunch of Irishmen get to fighting between themselves, Tilly, there's the devil himself to pay.

And the Scotch are all ready, planning on getting the job of rebuilding whatever parts of Ireland which happen to get knocked down during the free-for-all.

CONTRIBUTORS WILL PLEASE REMIND THEMSELVES THAT WE ARE MORE OR LESS "BACK AND THE COLUMN HAS RESUMED ITS DAILY RUN AND TO DO SOMETHING ABOUT IT."

Just Folks
By Edgar A. Guest

INCIDENT

There was a lonely woman in a cottage. Day by day Alone she walked her garden round to pass the time away. Alone she brewed her cup of tea; At nine o'clock at night Alone she walked from room to room to lock the windows tight.

She heard the neighbors laughing, but she never turned to see. Nor raised her head nor took a step to share their revelry. Her hair was thin and silvered and her face was lined with care. And only little children ever found a welcome there.

For them she fashioned cookies to resemble polar bears And sugar dates and walnut cakes and other sweet affairs. And every little boy or girl who passed her threshold o'er Could eat her stock of goodies till they couldn't swallow more.

She paid no heed to grown-ups, and the neighbors wondered why. Alone she chose to keep her house; alone she chose to die. The men folk thought her crazy, and the women often stood And wondered who had wronged her, but the children thought her good.

We never learned her story. All alone, one night she died. And when the children missed her, men were called to break inside. They found her lying on the floor, her voice forever stilled. And in the room the cookie jar, which she had just refilled.

Looking Backward

TEN YEARS AGO
Tuesday, August 16, 1921.

An uncompromising stand for absolute Irish independence was taken that day by President Eamon De Valera in his address to the Sinn Féin parliament.

Miss Adelaide McKee, who had been physical director of Appleton Woman's club for the past year, had resigned and was to leave the following Wednesday evening for Minneapolis for a vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bauernfeind returned the previous Monday from a week's visit in Chicago, Madison and Evansville.

Mrs. D. A. Gardner was visiting friends and relatives at Theresa and Syracuse, N. Y.

A. B. Fisher and family were camping at Shawano Lake.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Tuesday, August 21, 1906

Miss Olive Tucker had been engaged by the school board of the Fourth district as assistant kindergarten instructor to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss Genevieve Carroll.

The marriage of Miss Mollie Luebke and Peter Vandenberg took place at 7:30 that morning at St. Joseph church.

C. E. Murphy had gone to Marinette where he was to take a position in the American Express company's office.

The Misses Margaret Stier and Louise Negebauer returned the previous Sunday from Oshkosh where they had been spending the past two weeks with friends and relatives.

Conrad Verbrick left the preceding afternoon on a few days' business trip to Auburndale.

Miss Marie Langenberg was enjoying a two weeks' visit in the country at the farm home of friends.

Personal Health Talks
By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author

THE SHEEP AND THE GOATS.

Recently we were kind enough to divide mankind into two types or classes according to the predominance of tissues derived from different embryonic layers. By this test some of us are typers and some are typists. But our customers were not satisfied with this, so we had another try at it later, and divided everybody according to the predominance of the sympathetic or the vagus portions of the autonomic nervous system into vags and sympos, and even then failed to satisfy everybody. So today I'm going to try once more and see if we can't effect a final separation of the sheep from the goats, or vice versa. This split is determined by the functional behavior of the ductless glands, namely, thyroid, adrenal, pituitary, parathyroid, thymus, islands of Langerhans in the pancreas which secrete insulin, and the so-called "interstitial" cells of the male sex gland and corpora lutea of the female sex gland. All these glands of internal secretion (hormones) are intimately if not wholly under the influence of the sympathetic portion of the autonomic or involuntary nervous system. The functions of these glands of internal secretion are important factors in general nutrition, growth, stature and development of body and mind. Not only individual but racial characteristics depend on the ductless glands.

For instance, oversecretion of the pituitary gland at base of the brain produces gigantism or acromegaly, in which state the brow bridges and lower jaw are particularly prominent, and the nose large. Some such characteristics distinguish the Caucasians from the Mongols. Typical Americans have prominent or positive chins, almost prognathous, and fairly large stature. We're a pituitary race.

Pituitary, thymus and thyroid are concerned in the growth of these endocrine secretions are accountable for most deficiencies in growth. In some cases remarkable "increase in the growth of a child" have been brought about by the prolonged administration of suitable hormones. This is a question which only the physician can consider in a given case. It is a waste of good postage to ask the author for further particulars about this.)

Fat folks are proverbially good natured. It is just as true that a hibernating bear seldom picks a quarrel with a hyena. Fat folks don't bite because they lack the ambition or internal stimulus to work the tempo and master muscles for any unnecessary purpose. In many cases the same thing that makes them accumulate superfluous flesh also makes them complacent and dull or drowsy—hypothyroidism.

As yet we know very little about the physiological or normal correlation of these ductless gland functions, but we do know that the thyroid secretion experts in some regions on the adrenal glands, and the adrenal secretion in turn has some influence on the pituitary glands. At any rate no one today can diagnose with any degree of exactness which ductless gland hormone or extract or which combination of them a given patient may need. This question demands all the skill and personal study of the case a good doctor can offer.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
The Big Clinic Racket

I wrote my symptoms some time ago to the — clinic, and Dr. . . . wrote in reply saying he thought I had vasomotor rhinitis and said my doctor should try 20 per cent silver nitrate. It did not help at 12 per cent and so prostrated me that my doctor refused to use it any stronger.

Mrs. B. A. E.

Answer—The fact that the doctor works for the big clinic doesn't make him any better at a long distance diagnosis. You should have a proper nose and throat examination, and let the physician treat you according to the condition the examination reveals. If you prefer to go it blind, it will at least do you no harm to take a course of calcium lactate—say 10 grains two or three times a day, preferably an hour after meals and with a good drink of water, for a period of eight or 10 weeks, twice each year. Along with this it is well to expose your body to direct sunlight as much as possible, short of sunburn.)

Dentist Admires Nature's Work

Recently I had my teeth examined by the family dentist. He told me they were in excellent condition, and complimented me on how well cared for they are. He said they showed the benefit of persistent and regular use of the toothbrush. As a matter of fact I had not used a toothbrush in two years. S. T.)

Answer—Oh, well, even a dentist slips occasionally. But don't cheer, boys. A lot of easy-going old fellows will go on brushing their teeth religiously to the bitter end.

The Tynmites
By Hal Cochran

TWO Tynmites were mighty quick to grab hold of the great, long stick. Upon it fine bananas hung, but it was fairly light. The Travel Man cried, "That's the way! It's fun to turn work into play. Try not to take a tumble, though, or you'll be in a plight."

The native trailed along real slow till Scouty cried, "Come on, let's go! I hate to lag along like this." This made the native smile. "Ah, right," said he. "I'll gladly run if that's what you think should be done. I'd like to make a bet, though—that you tire out after while."

And he was right. It wasn't long until the Tynmites weren't so strong. They started lagging far behind and Scouty shouted, "Wait! Just walking sounds much better now. Then we will reach your home somehow. I guess we are too little to move on at such a gait."

"Oh, well," replied the native, "we will soon be there, as you can see." He pointed to a little hut and added, "I live there!" They went inside and had a drink of nice cool water. "Gee, I think," cried Scouty, "that it tastes just fine. Cold water's really rare."

They hung around an hour or so and then decided they must go. And then they hiked back to the beach and there they saw a boat. "I'd like to ride in that," said one. "I think 't would be a heap of fun. It is a big flat-bottomed thing. It's bound to keep afloat."

Scouty shouted, "Hey! Come here! Give me a ride and let me steer." The natives in the boat just smiled and then one of them roared. "We're coming, son, and you can ride. Your steering skill's soon to be tried." And when the boat pulled up to shore, wee Clowny climbed aboard.

TUGS TOW BIG DOCK FOR 13,000 MILES

London—What is said to be the world's record towing job will be performed by two tugs which will set out for New Zealand shortly with a huge floating dock.

The dock, weighing 17,000 tons, and over 534 feet long, will cover 23,000 miles before it reaches its destination. It was made for the Wellington Harbor Board.

A similar towing job had to be undertaken in the case of the Singapore dock. The larger of the two sections of this dock, which was towed through the Suez Canal three years ago, was not quite so long as the Wellington dock, but it required expert maneuvering to get it to Singapore in safety.

A Bystander In Washington

BY HERBERT PLUMMER
Washington — Years ago a Norwegian by the name of Saave Shipstead set out from his native land for America in quest of economic independence.

He settled down in Minnesota as a farmer and became the father of 12 children.

Saave Shipstead and his wife are now dead, but Norway has not been permitted to forget the family name. For one of the 12 children—Henrik—United States senator, has returned to Scandinavia and by means of radio kept alive the Shipstead memory.

The senator spoke in fluent Norwegian and drew much attention, say news dispatches from Oslo.

It was his first visit to the land of his father; in fact, his first visit abroad. For the senator was born in the township of Burbank, Minn., and until now has had neither the time nor means to travel.

Working At 14

A member of a large family, he was forced to work. When 14 years old he hired out at a dollar a day shocking grain behind a binder. His father gave him 14 acres in which to plant potatoes and he managed to sell them for 11 cents a bushel.

Even when he decided to go to Northwestern University to take a course in history, he found it necessary to wait on table to help pay expenses. And one of his first statements after he had been elected to the United States senate in 1922 was: "I must get to work and make a living until I am sworn in."

A dentist by trade but a politician by inclination and instinct, this son of a Norwegian immigrant holds a position of power and influence now in the councils of the nation. With party lines in the seventy-second congress drawn so closely, it may be that he will hold the balance of power.

His position is unique. A farmer-laborer, he is his own party as far as the senate is concerned.

Radical Well

He has been variously called a "radical" and a "bolshewik," but his record as a senator fails to prove the charges to many persons.

When he was seriously ill two years ago, his republican colleague, the blind Senator Schall, called on the whole state to pray for his recovery.

"He is not a republican," said Schall, "but he has been a fighting senator for Minnesota and is one of the most able men in congress."

A big man physically, more than six feet tall, he has blue eyes and light hair. Is almost entirely gray. Before his illness, which has stubbornly handicapped him, he weighed 185 pounds.

He is serious in manner and in thought. His somewhat laborious speeches in the senate reflect his sober attitude.

Barbs

Liquor has showed up in the Philadelphia navy yard. Sailors will have at least one sweetheart in that port.

A woman is suing a judge for $2,737,438. She must think she's from Chicago.

Spend your hoarded cash and end the depression, says the head of the A. F. L. What cash?

A man named O'Leary stole a cow and was sentenced to nine to 15 months. Nothing like the kick of that first O'Leary cow.

Hoover let his 57th birthday go unobserved. Well, anyway, that's one more on him.

ASSOCIATIONS AID MEN WITH AVERAGE PAY TO GET HOMES

Many Plans Designed for Families Anxious to Own Their Own Homes

BY GEORGE T. HUGHES

Copyright, 1931, By Cons. Press

New York—As a means of helping the average salaried man and wage earner to acquire his own home, the building and loan association, as it has been developed in the United States, has proved its value. These associations operate under a number of different plans. They are governed by varying state regulations but the underlying principle is the same.

The idea is to mobilize the savings of the members and to loan them back to the same members on residential real estate security. They are essentially cooperative. Their strength lies in their local character, the low ratio of expense and the provision for amortizing the loan.

In this field, as in every other financial activity, there have been failures, some of them due to defects in the plan but more to mismanagement and yet the record as a whole compares favorably with that of any other savings institution. From time to time the writer has been asked to pass upon the safety of this or that specific building and loan association, but only a general answer is possible. It is to the standing in the community of the officers and managers of the particular building and loan association in question that appeal must be made when its rating is involved. Granted that the laws of the state in which operations are conducted are adequate and that money is loaned only in a district contiguous to the office and that the association in question has a record of success, the only remaining point is as to the character and business acumen of the officers.

The item of expense is low because these officers serve either without compensation or at a nominal salary. The factor of safety is high because those who are entrusted with the duty of making loans are acquainted with the real estate values in the neighborhood and because in many instances the borrowers are personally known to them. That the borrower will make every effort to repay his loan is assured by the fact that he himself by virtue of his membership in the association is also a loaner and that the profits of the association go to all members alike, those who borrow and those who do not.

Finally, experience shows that once a substantial equity in a home has been acquired, only an extraordinary series of misfortunes brings default.

Newest Hats For Women Recall "Days That Were"

There's more than a hint of grandmother's heyday in the victorian hats that have come into their own for the fall season. Befeathered or quilled, and set covly over one eye, these new hats fairly shout of an hourglass waist, fluttering bustles, silk top hats, ruffled parasols, gold topped canes and the family coach behind a pair of stepping greys.

Fashion has gone back to the days of 1860 for the designs of new fall hats, back to the period when Empress Eugenie presided over the French court of the second empire. Not very large these hats, pulled rakishly over the right eye and exposing the hair on the left side. A favorite design is a flat rolled crown with a gently rolling brim over which trails a curling ostrich plume. The plume follows the hat to the back and then drops intriguingly to the lady of fashion's shoulder. Or perhaps the hat may have a pair of wings perched on the crown. At any rate it has combined the coquetry of the days when Napoleon III ruled France and the face of the modern woman.

Nearly every hat boasts its feather of one kind or another. Stiff quills peak from beneath lifted brims or clipped ostrich quills follow the headline. Felt and velvet are the favorite fabrics and tiny fur hats promise a comeback as popular as their reign in 1880. These fur hats are fashioned of flat furs such as broadtail, astrakhan. Little barrel muffs, barely large enough for the hands, go with the modern outfit.

Since the new hats have come into vogue, hairdressing fashions have changed with the moment. Short hair effects have wisps of hair plastered on the cheeks while long hair is impeccably waved on the side that is exposed and caught in a low knot at the nape of the neck. Semi-long hair, curled under at the ends is the most popular hair dress with the new hats.

SELL FOURTH WARD LOT TO SATISFY MORTGAGE

A part of a lot in the Fourth ward will be sold at public auction by Sheriff John Lappen at the courthouse on Sept. 16 to satisfy a mortgage foreclosure judgment. The judgment was granted by Judge Theodore Berg in municipal court on July 26, 1930, and the sale was ordered July 31, 1931. The property is owned by Joe Bogart, et al, and the mortgage is held by the J. Fountain Lumber company.

(Black, biting, harsh irritant chemicals)

present in every tobacco leaf

"They're out—so they can't be in!"

Every LUCKY STRIKE is made of the finest tobacco leaves the world can offer—the finest from Turkey—the finest from Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia, Georgia and the Carolinas—the Cream of many crops throughout the world. But all tobacco leaves, regardless of price and kind, as nature produces them, contain harsh irritants. LUCKY STRIKE'S exclusive "TOASTING" Process—a process that mellows, that purifies, that includes the use of the modern Ultra Violet Ray—expels certain harsh irritants naturally present in every tobacco leaf. We sell these expelled irritants to manufacturers of chemical compounds, who use them as a base in making sheep-dip*, as well as a powerful spraying solution for trees, flowers and shrubs—enough to permit the daily dipping of over 50,000 sheep or the daily spraying of many thousands of trees. Thus, you are sure these irritants, naturally present in all tobacco leaves, are not in your LUCKY STRIKE. "They're out—so they can't be in!" No wonder LUCKIES are always kind to your throat.

was played and a 6 o'clock dinner was served. Dancing provided entertainment during the evening. Eight couples were present.

Don't Give Child Too Much Sun

BY ANGELO PATRI

It is stylish now to give children sunbaths. As usual there is danger of overdoing a good thing. Sunbathing is a powerful force. It must be applied with caution.

The skin of a little child is as sensitive as a petal of a flower. The hot summer sun will scorch it easily. Sun burn is a painful thing. Apart from that which is punishment enough for a mistake, is the damage a burn does to the skin. It does no good to burn a child's skin. Every body will at once agree to that. But did it it must be right. That is not so. If you do anything too much you will suffer for it. There seems to be a double vengeance in sunburn.

When you give little children sunbaths go carefully. Gradually introduce the treatment. Never expose a naked child to the rays of the summer sun unless he has been seasoned to it, and then be very cautious.

Cloudy days when the sun seems hidden in a gray veil are treacherous days for sunburn. One of the worst cases of sunburn I have ever seen was inflicted on a little boy who was in a boat on the sand fishing all day. No sign of the sun during the haze was to be seen all day. But the child was frightfully burned. The combination of sun and water and wind was too much. The haze steamed him.

It is well to warn boys and girls who are going to the country that they are not to expose their bodies to the sunbath too much at a time. I have known children to jump off the bus at the camp gates and race to the field for a first sunbath. The boy with the deepest coat of tan is the proudest boy, a real Indian. If he gets a bad burn the first day he is likely to get a bad start and spoil his whole vacation. Just as well to wait a little and tan slowly.

Sunshine is good for all of us. It always has been. Summer sunshine that blisters your skin and gives you a bad headache and a sick stomach is certainly not good for anybody. I have known many a healthy child who never had a sunburn, who never had a coat of tan that made him the color of his shoes. Something less than that does just as well.

And while we are talking about it we may as well speak about the girls who wear sunsuits in which to loll about the beaches and acquire a suntan. Maybe it is all for the good of their health. I hope their health will remain good. I am sure that they will store up no end of it for the days to come. What I am wondering is this: Would they work as hard to acquire this reserve of health represented by suntan if they had to take their baths in private? As they should be taken, in my opinion.

I am old fashioned. I cannot let a shaken from the conviction that personal privacy is desirable. That strangers ought not to be asked to bear with our too generous exposure of ourselves and our little whims. That moderation in all things, sunshine, clothes, fads included, is greatly to be praised.

The Story of Sue
by MARGERY HALE
© 1929 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

HARRY came upstairs to tell me that they had arrived. (Sue read on in Corrinne's letter) "Just as though I couldn't hear them raving about what Jim had told Prof. Somebody the time he didn't know something. The gentlemen weren't out for anything. They are too apparent."

"I made a lightning toilet. I have a new pink organdie dress, all frills and furbelows....the kind that our grandmothers used when our grandfathers were deciding whether or not to take a chance. I have pink slippers for it. When I was ready I looked like anything but anyone's cook."

"Harry liked the dress. He did not seem worried about the dinner at all. I guess every dinner he ever had had at home or any place else had been perfect and he didn't know there was a chance that a meal couldn't be."

"I came down, and told the three men how delighted I was to have them....they are nice, too....all married but one....and then I went to the kitchen to see about the waffles. I put the food on the table and got all the waffle stuff and the iron ready on the table too. All I had to do was follow directions, and I did. Oh, yes, I put a pound of bacon on the stove too."

"We drank the cocktails and ate waffles and the first waffle stuck. The first one always does. I've heard. But the second did too, and the third and the fourth. It got funny. Then it got embarrassing. Then it got awful."

"The bacon was burning to a crisp. The smoke from it was awful. And some of the grease splashed all over my dress."

"The men laughed. I don't blame them a bit now. I would have too. But I was very first angry, and it was too much. But I kept still. I never said a word during the first round. The waffles were the worst looking things I ever saw. I thought, though, that when they were burned under maple syrup maybe they would improve. You see, I finally got three made that could be removed from the iron."

"The salad was all right. The waffles were vanishing. But the waffle kept burning worse. Then they all started to tease me. I stood it until Harry excused himself and dragged in a cold baked potato from some place and offered it to the highest bidder."

"Then I flamed. Sue, I took that better and I dumped it in the middle of the table. All over the mint green luncheon set. Somebody grabbed the cloth and kept the mess from running on the floor. Then I rushed upstairs."

"I thought Harry would come after me. But he didn't. The men didn't even go away. They stayed. And they laughed. Not forced laughs. Not polite laughs that cover an embarrassing situation. But the great booming kind that actually are bursting forth because the laughter is enjoying themselves. Those four men proceeded to get themselves some food of their own. It seemed that there were some cans of chicken filled with pimientos, waiting to be creamed and served on toast. If I had looked I would have seen them. There were also some cans of vegetables."

"Jim knew how to make coffee. The mint ice cream. They had a feast and told stories and talked about old times and burned three holes in my best Irish linen table cloth that they dragged out when I spoiled the other one, and all in all, along about morning when they finally broke up, I decided that I'd made them have a better time than if I had stuck around."

"But I expected that when Harry finally came upstairs he would go in for a good expression. But guess what he said!"

Extreme simplicity of style makes this a charming model for all-day occasions.

It has all kinds of slendering qualities, to say nothing of its smart individuality.

It simulates a hip yoke and achieves an unusually slendering effect through its moulded long-waisted bodice belted at point most becoming to its wearer.

When it is so easily made—why not have it? It combines white crepe silk with black and white printed crepe silk.

Style No. 3372 is designed for sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inches bust. Size 36 requires 3½ yards of 39-inch material with 1 yard of 35-inch contrasting.

futility of existence as he has made it for himself. And some day he may turn back to you as the only real, worthwhile thing in his life.

You need not feel disgusted with yourself because you love him. Perhaps you sense that he hasn't changed entirely—that his present conduct is no indication of his real self but a temporary aberration which has distorted his viewpoint and made him almost a stranger. Subconsciously you may feel that he needs your help, even though he would seem to be driving you away from him at every step.

It seems as if your only hope of happiness lay with the man you love. You have your children's immediate welfare to consider, and you have really a very definite reason to hope that this definite disastrous change will not be permanent. Since you have held on so long, try to be brave a little longer. You have little to gain by going away now.

Let Man Do The Worrying

Mrs. H. M. It doesn't sound as though you'd picked a very true blue type, although your heart seems to be dead set on having a faithful husband for your next matrimonial venture. If a man starts out by promising two women that he'll marry them, he is not showing himself to be particularly sincere or trustworthy.

It looks as if he were trying to be the Don Juan of his home town, and nothing more. Certainly if his matrimonial intentions were genuine, he'd have come to some definite conclusions about whom he wanted to marry. When a man tells you that he isn't just quite sure whether he loves you as much as someone else, you can usually tuck away your orange blossoms in a corner somewhere and try to forget about them.

Just turn your mind to other matters and let him arrive at a conclusion all by himself. It's time he did a little worrying instead of letting you in for more than your share of it.

LONELY BLUE EYES: No use trying to be like someone else, to please any man. You can't keep up the bluff if you're temperamentally unfitted for the task. Be yourself and wait till you find someone who likes you for what you really are.

There is no harm in copying someone else, occasionally in superficial things such as dress, but you mustn't try to imitate a personality which can't possibly suit you—or characteristics which spoil what charm you have.

If the present hero doesn't find you satisfactory, it would be better to forget him than to try to be exactly like the somebody else who took him away.

(CPA)—Resentment against Governor Roosevelt for his call of a special session of the legislature and his general sympathy with the Seabury committee, which is investigating New York's municipal affairs, has developed to an intense degree on the part of Tammany Hall.

Open expressions of hostility toward Mr. Roosevelt are common and the word has gone forth that while Tammany may not make the mistake of giving Mr. Roosevelt more ammunition in his effort to win the presidential nomination, it will nevertheless exert its influence against him.

Mr. Roosevelt weighed all these considerations before he acted. If he sided with Tammany, he would forfeit the respect of other states besides New York and a good many independents in his own state. If he fought Tammany as he is doing now, he would increase his chances of building up a favorable opinion behind his candidacy from coast to coast.

Wilson Was Exception

A Democratic candidate from New York for the presidency has to do a lot of explaining away—he must explain away his Tammany connections. The cry of Tammany was raised against Al Smith. It was never raised against Woodrow Wilson because Tammany disliked him and fought him in the 1912 convention at Baltimore.

But there is a significance far greater than a fight on Tammany and which may affect Mr. Roosevelt's chances of getting the nomination. After all, Mr. Wilson's anti-organization attitude didn't develop fully until long after the Baltimore convention and he benefited, too, by a split in the Republican party. But if Governor Roosevelt's attitude toward Tammany means he doesn't "play ball" with the organization politicians, it may win him many independent votes which will do him much good after the nomination but it will not get him delegates. If the word is passed along that Mr. Roosevelt is "anti-organization" there are lots of states where Tammany can indirectly do Mr. Roosevelt much damage among the delegates. It will be recalled that Mr. Wilson had the same fight when he turned on the Jim Smith organization to which he owed his nomination for governor and his entry into political life. But Mr. Wilson had a pressure behind him which was stronger than the organization politicians; most of whom supported Champ Clark.

The question is whether Franklin Roosevelt can develop a similar strength. If he had the intellectual powers of a Wilson or the stature of Owen Young, the coup kick over Tammany and he nominated anyhow. But Tammany and other organizations will insist there are other men in the party who be set up as likely to gain more votes in the election. If nominated, than Mr. Roosevelt. This will be their plan of attack now. They may not be able to control the next Democratic nominee and he may not be any more pleasing to them than Mr. Roosevelt, but he will not have committed what to Tammany is the unpardonable sin of assisting a Republican legislature to crucify a Democratic organization. Mr. Roosevelt will nevertheless go on, as he must if he is to have any chance for the nomination at all, and if he wins it, Tammany will be a negligible factor in deciding New York state's vote anyhow. It could not afford to knife the ticket—so its effort now will be to prevent the Roosevelt nomination.

SHARP ADVANCES SEEN IN PRICES OF DAIRY GOODS

Increases Are Bright Spot to Farmers — Butter and Cheese Up

Dairy commodity prices have undergone sharp advances in recent weeks as the direct result of the shortage of milk caused by the drought, according to dealers here. Butter, which sold about a month ago for 25 cents per pound, is now above 30 cents while cheese is making small gains with each new market quotation.

Dealers report that the minimum flow of milk expected at this time of the year is usually about 10 per cent below. At the present time, however, the milk production is below this minimum. The prices, however, also are below the prices paid at the same time last year.

Butter prices, it was said, are affected principally by the flow of milk in Iowa and Minnesota, where the large butter-producing centers are located. It is said that in these states feed is short and the volume of milk is down in the same proportion as is noted in Wisconsin.

The controlling factor in the situation, it was said, is the dearth of pasture and the resultant prospect for restricted feed supply this coming winter. With pastures burned to a crisp, farmers are now forced to feed hay to their stock. Others are cutting their headlands in cornfields and feeding the green corn to their stock. In many sections of the county the corn is unusually short and much of it is withered and unfit for feeding.

TOO MUCH COOKING OF SWEET CORN IS CAUSE FOR DIVORCE

Chicago (CP)—Mrs. Bertha L. Lesh went into Judge Daniel Trudeau's court and got his legal permission to stop cooking sweet corn for her husband, Leo.

"We were married in the summer of 1928 and right away he began making me get out of bed at all hours of the night to cook him sweet corn," she said. "I didn't mind it so much at first, but the next summer, when the corn ripened, he started it again, and when I finally refused he beat me."

So she sued for divorce, but dropped the matter when Lesh promised to be reasonable about his sweet corn.

"Everything was all right," continued Mrs. Lesh, "until the corn season began this year." Then he went back to his old tricks. When I refused to cook his corn at 2:30 in the morning he boxed my ears."

Judge said this was cruel and gave her a divorce.

rain fell during the last six weeks corn is still green though short. The shortage of milk noted at collecting plants reflects a general condition throughout the county. Farmers who sell table milk are running their plants with restricted volume.

The egg market also has been strengthened within the last 10 days, prices now being around 20 cents per dozen while a month ago eggs were plentiful at 15 cents. The question of feed is also having its effect on poultrymen, it was said.

MISS ORNSTEIN TO SAIL ON SEPT. 4

Appleton Girl Returns Home Next Month After Study in Europe

Miss Helen Ornstein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ornstein, 703 E. North-st. will sail on Sept. 4 for home after spending two years in Europe studying voice under a scholarship won in competition with a large number of singers. Miss Ornstein has studied under the foremost instructors of Europe and on Aug. 1 appeared in a concert before 15,000 people massed in St. Marks square in Venice.

Miss Ornstein achieved a remarkable success in this concert, according to European authorities, one of whom said her performance will be talked about in Venice for the next ten years. She sang the aria "O Mio Fernando" from the opera "La Favorita" and after four curtain calls responded with an encore, singing "Voce di Donna" from the opera "La Gioconda." Again she was forced to respond to a number of curtain calls before the immense audience would consent to go on with the program. In one of her responses she was accompanied on the stage by her instructor, Maestro Tanaro, who received a tremendous ovation.

Miss Ornstein spent several weeks in St. Moritz, Switzerland, where she continued her lessons. Before sailing for home she will return to Venice.

Clement Allen Hackworthy, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Clement Hackworthy was baptized by the Rev. Lyle Douglas Utts Sunday morning at All Saints church. His sponsors were the Misses Georgia Durdeen and Dorothy Hackworthy and Elmer F. Root and Allen C. Hackworthy.

Discarded Horns, Found By Children, Start Riot

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—Mothers here are divided over the better course to pursue; whether to inscribe and dedicate to the local Edison Wood Products Co., a medal in acknowledgment of their service to the childhood of this city, or to hand together to clamour at the company's doors, demanding compensation for ruined dispositions, skinned ankles and what have you.

It all came about when the Edison company on Saturday relegated to the junk heap at the rear of its property here 2,000 large, antiquated phonograph horns. These were commonly known as the morning glory horn.

If heads of the company ordered the discard in the fond belief that no one uses the style of horn nowadays, a hasty survey of the city would certainly change their minds. Along the Huck Finn telegraph system, known by every boy and girl, traveled the word that there was something to be had absolutely for nothing but the taking. By sundown every one of the 2,000 phonograph horns were distributed about the city.

Statisticians having nothing better to do have accumulated data to show that one morning glory horn in a city block has precipitated from one to four fights each, has plunged from four to six pairs of parents into black despair and has ruined peaceful living for everyone except the totally deaf. Multiply these figures by 2,000 and you have a conservative estimate.

Against these ominous figures are arguments pointing out that the horns have splendid merits as shown in development of musical talents, development of lung power.

For every child has become a potential radio announcer or embryo virtuoso. Sound coming through these magnificent horns are 10 times as loud and if you work it right you can turn out noises exactly like all the animals in "Trader Horn." And to prove the horticultural angle: One yard is adorned with two horns in which geraniums have been transplanted.

"This may all be true," counters one mother, "but what about it? I tried one of the things to call my boy home for dinner, and he was at the neighbors where the kids were playing orchestra with six of the horns and the radio turned on. So I had to walk over and get him as usual."

START INQUIRY INTO SHOOTING IN MARYLAND

Baking Executive Wounded While Escorting Woman to Her Home

Baltimore—(AP)—The motive for the shooting early yesterday morning of R. Wallace Kolb, baking executive as he was driving Mrs. Nellie Greene, member of a prominent Georgia family, to her home, was sought today by police. Robbery, advanced early in the investigation, had been discarded.

Kolb, a bachelor sportsman and president of the baking company bearing his name, was shot by an unknown assailant in the thigh and early today was in a hypodermic-induced sleep, following an operation to remove the bullet. He had been ordered from the car before he was shot.

The attack occurred in the yard of the home of J. Henry Steele in the northern part of the city. Mrs. Greene two years ago was given legal separation from J. Woodall Steele, a lawyer. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Carey Lamar of Augusta, and a descendant of L. Q. C. Lamar, a famous Georgia aristocrat.

After the shooting she gave her name as Mrs. Margaret Remmy of New York, and said her companion had been wounded in a "simple hold-up". Later she admitted her identity.

The gunman made his appearance as Kolb had slowed his automobile to approximately 10 miles an hour to make the turn into the driveway of the Steele home. The man darted from the sidewalk, thrust his gun through the window and said "stick 'em up".

Kolb got out of the car and had hardly walked a dozen steps before he was shot. The man fled and Mrs. Greene ran to the Steele home for assistance.

She was upset after the incident and at the hospital where she accompanied Kolb a nurse prepared a bromide for her and she was permitted to return to the Steele home.

Orland-Mara Defy Death In Thrilling Dive At Circus

The Orland-Mara sensation. What is it?

Well, it's the supreme new thriller of the Ringling and Barnum and Bailey circus to be seen in Appleton, Thursday, Aug. 20th, when this leviathan of circuses comes here for the first time in some years. It is literally a dizzy dive between the gaping jaws of death, and is a real gooseflesh producer.

High above the heads of the circus audience, Orland, a doughty Italian with nerves of steel, stands upon a narrow pedestal erected at the very top of the tent. Lying upon his back, as if a part of himself, is a petite young lady—Miss Mara of Berlin.

Far below is a curving chute placed upon the hippodrome track. At a given signal Orland dives forward and then downward. With express train speed the two human forms flash through space. Orland's chest is expanded. With resounding impact it strikes the chute and like skid jumpers, Orland and Mara swoop along the toboggan like structure. Onward they zoom to land in a net held taut by many men.

Circus patrons have sat spell-bound hardly daring to draw a long breath. Now they break into loud huzzas and frantic applause. Orland, and the pretty Miss Mara tear off their helmets. They wave them, smiling, as they run down the track. The Orland-Mara sensation is an incredible feat accomplished. Once more the daring duo have roiled the dice with death and have won. They are happy and thousands of people have experienced the thrill of a lifetime.

Another act upon the main tent program which causes comment and thrills the patrons is offered by the daring Wallendas troupe of three German youth and a captivating young girl, in high jinks upon a slender promenade of steel wire at the very dome of the tent. Their act beggars description, and one seeing it for the first time is tempted to believe they will never do it a second time. But they do—afternoon and night—and their suicidal performance is accomplished without the use of the usual safety net spread beneath.

Tuberculosis Shows Negli-

Only eight reactors have been found among 13,144 head of Ontaga-mie-co cattle examined for tubercu-losis between July 13 and Aug. 1, according to a report received by Gus Sell, county agent, from Dr. W. R. Winger, of the state department of agriculture, who is in charge of the test. This is the second retest of cattle in the county since the original test in 1927, when about 3 per cent of the cattle were found in- fected. The first retest made in 1927 revealed that between one quarter and one half of one per cent were

PLANE WRECKED IN 1,800-FOOT DIVE; OCCUPANTS UNHURT

Chicago—(AP)—Three people took an 1,800-foot dive in a dead airplane and lived today to tell about it. Joseph Monfort, of Momence, Ill., piloted Mr. and Mrs. Emil L. Hess up over Berwyn last night for a ride. The engine stalled. The plane lost altitude. It struck the top of an electric light standard, then smashed into a sign board and toppled onto a vacant lot, a mass of wreckage. All three crawled out, uninjured.

Infected. The percentage so far in the third retest is about .08 of one per cent, an almost negligible per-centage. Mr. Sell said. There are about 50,000 head of cattle in the county. It is expected that between seven and eight weeks will be re-quired to complete the work.

Thousands Still Engaged on Federal Construction Activities

Washington—(AP)—Thousands of the men employed on the expanded highway construction program are expected by the administration to swing picks and shovels almost until the snow flies.

Congress sought to aid the idle last session by increasing the regular federal aid appropriation from $15,000,000 to $125,000,000 and advancing an emergency fund of $50,000,000 to be repaid by states over a period of years. It also appropriated $125,000,000 for roads and trails in national parks and forests.

These funds, together with state appropriations, have given employment to many thousands. Figures for June obtained by the president's committee on employment showed 274,734 men at work in 37 states.

At the beginning of the year, it was estimated that $1,000,000,000 would be spent by the federal and state governments and that another $1,000,000,000 would be expended by county, municipal and township agencies.

Approach Billion
The former program, on the basis of contracts under way or already completed, bids fair to approximate $1,000,000,000. No figures on county, municipal and township expenditures are available.

Active projects under way on Aug. 1 in the federal aid program totaled $442,500,000.

Congress inserted a provision in the $30,000,000 emergency appropriation that all unexpended funds lapse on Sept. 1. This was done so that the emergency work would be started much earlier in the spring. Most states applied for their portions of this money so that it would be earned by that date.

States, in arranging for early application of the emergency money, provided that work after Sept. 1, would be completed through expenditure of regular federal aid allotments and state funds.

Approximately $30,000,000 of federal aid money remained to be applied on projects on Aug. 1. Millions more probably are available in state treasuries.

The committee on employment and other Washington officials are agreed that the emergency program has stimulated employment. None, however, would comment on what Congress might be asked to do next year.

SOVIET PRESIDENT STILL CLINGS TO PEASANT BLOUSE

M. O. Kalinin Works in Fields With Relatives, Bare-headed and Barefoot

Moscow—(AP)—When Mikhail Yanovich Kalinin, president of soviet Russia takes a vacation, he usually manages to get away at harvest time so he can help with the reaping.

Bareheaded, barefooted and wearing a rough peasant's shirt, he goes to the fields with his kin and bundle of wheat much as Calvin Coolidge raises hay.

Kalinin, too, harvesting is a revival of boyhood experience for the 56-year-old nominal head of the soviet government. His forebears were peasants and he believes that work in the fields is the best way to keep strong.

Abhors Evening Dress
Besides, it gives him a chance to talk to the farmers about the five year plan and about the superiority of collective and state farms over the individual farms, on one of which he was himself reared.

In his office he is generally to be found wearing a peasant jumper or blouse belted by a well worn piece of leather over an unpressed black tunic. His neatly trimmed beard and shining spectacles offer a striking contrast to this costume, but not even on the most formal occasions will he wear evening dress.

The president and his wife live in a small apartment within the Kremlin. They have no children and one woman servant attends to their wants. The three eat "en famille."

Widely known as the "old man" of Russia, Kalinin is the second president of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics. He was recommended for the post by his mentor, Lenin, and has held it since the death in 1920 of Sverdlov, the first president.

Has Limited Powers
Kalinin is also president of the Russian Soviet Federated Socialist Republic, one of the seven autonomous states constituting the union. By virtue of this latter office, he is one of the seven chairmen of the council of people's commissars, the executive and administrative branch of the central executive committee.

As president of the union, he presides at meetings of this committee, which is both executive and legislative arm of the government between meetings of the all union congress of Soviets.

Kalinin's powers as president are extremely limited. The chief authority vested in him is the pardoning power, but in all official acts he is subject to the president of the central executive committee.

AVIATION COURSE
Tuscaloosa, Ala.—The University of Alabama has announced that it plans to add a commercial course in the management of airports to its curriculum. Competent instructors, versed in all possible angles and problems that beset an airport manager, will be in charge of the class.

Thirty women lecturers were on the program for addresses before the British Association for the Advancement of Science, in recent sessions.

mind. He has had his job for 15 years, beginning in 1921, and he can be removed only by congress, on charges.

A big, square man, who looks quite properly like Bryan, since he hails from Nebraska, McCarl got into politics long ago as a lawyer and secretary to Senator Norris. Since landing his present job, he is most commonly spoken of by his enemies as "czar." He justifies the title by rigidly ruling 1,970 subordinates and cautiously censoring claims for as little as eleven cents. He is 52 years old, married, a sober Methodist and, notwithstanding vituperations from all sides, a man marked by serenity. He was that even when a chorus of accusation arose over the news he had paid $1,550 for two rugs for his office. Serenely he explained that good things are cheap in the long run.

Following with a philosophical consistency in the wake of his year-old proposal for a third party, John Dewey is out to poll the nation's progressives on their 1932 campaign views. Mr. Dewey, professor of philosophy at Columbia university, is the man whom the garrulous Count Keyserling set alongside jazz and called the two this country's chief gifts to civilization. He is probably even more consequential than that.

At 70, the author of 15 intelligent studies of life as it is lived now, or has been, Mr. Dewey has made himself a human pitchfork constantly on the prod against the country's two major political parties.

He may knot his neckties in the bulky fashion of 1900, and part his thin grey hair down the middle like a beau of the mauve decade, and stick to such an adornment on his upper lip as once made moustache cups a necessity, but in politics he is as modern as they make 'em. He upbraids President Hoover for failing to call congress into a special session to consider unemployment relief. He cracks down on Borah and Norris for their "cowardly refusal" to quit the republican party. He charges special interests dominate both parties, and he believes war should be made an international crime. He is modern, too, in his tobacco habits. He burns up cigarettes one after the other all day long.

COURT SOLVES TITLE TO ANTIQUE PIECES

Buenos Aires—(AP)—The "great furniture mystery" of the British empire trade exhibition ended when a local court held that the statue of limitations had operated to confirm ownership by the man who offered to sell a $500,000 collection to the Prince of Wales.

The pieces, of Hindu origin, are fashioned out of teak and are said to be about 200 years old. Augusto Laserra, a rear admiral in the Argentine navy, bought them in Hungary, but long delays in shipment kept them out of Argentina until 1907. Meanwhile the admiral died. His widow turned the furniture over to a lawyer whose son, Dr. Jose Narciso Sosa, exhibited the collection at the exposition.

It was there that the Prince of Wales offered $175,000 for the pieces, but the offer was withdrawn when a grandson of the admiral lodged a complaint with the police, disputing Sosa's title. Sosa won the case but he still has the furniture.

SPECULATE ON PENDING VISIT OF BANK LEADER

Montagu Norman Expected in This Country at Early Date

BY CARLTON A. SHIVELY
Copyright, 1931, By Cons. Press
Wall Street, New York (CPA)—
The reported early visit of Montagu Norman, governor of the bank of England, to this country is stirring up more than usual interest in Wall Street. Governor Norman has been here a number of times in his long career as head of the bank of England, and the governors of the federal reserve bank of New York have made a few return visits. There was a time when a visit by the head of one important central reserve bank to another was fraught with grave import, but the increasing spirit of cooperation since the war has removed much of the secrecy and mystery of the special significance from these visits. Even with improved transatlantic telephone service supplementing the cables and radio it is impossible to have complete harmony on bank policy without personal consultation from time to time. Wall Street in the past has sometimes exercised itself with imagining discussions at the meeting which probably were wide of the mark. On the other hand, some very definite steps have at times followed visits of central bank heads. Last year Governor Norman paid a visit to the federal reserve bank authorities, as he had done in 1929.

Put Up Rate
In 1929, it may be recalled, after giving up hope for central bank action in the stock market, Governor Norman took the initiative in putting up the bank of England's discount rate. He hoped that he might thereby prevent the further suction of funds to the New York market, but he was not very successful. Last summer and autumn the bank of England and the federal reserve bank acted in harmony in cutting discount rates and whereas traditionally the bank of England had maintained a lower rate than the reserve banks, the New York institution cut under the bank of England still says a discount rate is much lower than in London. In London the prime motive of lower rates was a stimulation to much-harassed British trade; over here a desire to help business was evident, but perhaps the principal motive was a spur to the bond market. As the federal reserve bank of New York pointed out in its annual review of 1930 operations, "in a period of declining business activity the function of a bank of issue becomes as a rule negative and finds expression in the removal of obstacles to the free use of credit rather than the exercise of a positive influence upon the credit and business situation."

Helped Bond Market
However, the easy money policy of 1930 did in the first half of the year foster a better bond market, which it was hoped would help domestic trade and, by permitting a resumption of foreign loans, increase our foreign trade as well. These objects were moved further away by what the reserve bank called a "series of untoward events," being the drought and political and economic disturbances abroad. The New York bank cut its discount rate last year five times, bringing it down to 2 per cent, and this year has made one cut to 1 1/2 per cent, the lowest rate for any central bank ever put into effect. Bank of England followed, but no lower than

Launching Of "Akron" Will Fulfill Dream Of Air Chief

BY ARNOLD MALMQUIST

Akron, O.—When the mighty dirigible U. S. S. Akron is launched on its maiden flight, among the gray-haired dignitaries in the front rank will be a slender, keen-eyed, young man whose name some day may be on every school child's lips. World War ace at 19, Member of the Ohio legislature at 27, Assistant secretary of the navy for aeronautics at 32, A lawyer and a millionaire. Meet David Simon Ingalls.

In his 32 years he has taken life at its price and earned every inch of his way. He is brimming with experience. A flyer of heavier-than-air craft, he sees the possibilities of lighter-than-air craft. He has championed lighter-than-air craft, fought for it, and the launching of the Akron was the fulfillment of his dream.

Navy's First Ace
Yet, he flies in a navy airplane on all his official missions and has three private planes. In fact, he holds the speed record between Washington and Cleveland, his home, two hours and 25 minutes. On his first day in office in the Navy Department, he went out to the Anacostia naval air station in the District of Columbia and staged a stunting exhibition for Rear Admiral William Moffett, chief of the Bureau of Aeronautics.

Ingalls learned to fly at 18. He was attending Yale when the war broke out. Joining the Yale aerial unit, he was attached to a British squadron, and became the navy's first ace, bringing down six enemy planes and one balloon.

In recognition of this valor he was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal by this country and the Distinguished Flying Cross of Great Britain. Becomes Lawyer Back in America, at 19, he returned to Yale, graduated, and then went to Harvard and studied law assiduously. With his degree, he entered the legal office of Squire, Sanders and Dempsey, of Cleveland.

In 1926 he was elected to the Ohio legislature, and commuted by air between the general sessions at Columbus and home. During his tenure he succeeded in having the legislature adopt an aviation code governing intra-state flying, which became known as the Ingalls code. His father is Albert S. Ingalls, vice president of the New York Central lines at Cleveland, but Dave (as he is called even by those who scarcely know him) is independently wealthy, having a fortune estimated at $12,000,000.

He is married and has three children. Mrs. Ingalls is the former Louise Harkness, heiress to Standard Oil millions.

Crack Polo Player
When Ingalls is not attending to his duties as assistant secretary for aeronautics, he is flying, practicing law, managing his many securities and investments, or playing polo. He is a crack polo player, a hard rider and a flashing performer. Fox hunting was too slow. Among polo players he is known as one of the best in the middle west. He is a director of a large bank, and has been quietly interested in a number of aviation enterprises. At one time he financed the building of a safety plane for a designer who had new ideas, and then test hopped the new plane himself. Work and common sense have taken David Simon Ingalls high in public life, and the gray-haired dignitaries concede that he can just about chart his own course in the realm of national affairs. Berlin—Barbers are hailing a new era of prosperity. The short crop which made for long periods between hair cuts is looting favor. It is still affected by university students, however, for it shows dueling scars off to advantage.

New York—Gloria Swanson is on the way to Hollywood with only 48 pieces of baggage. A taxi caravan was necessary to get them to the station. Frog Legs, Wed. Nite at Eddie's Place, E. Wis. Ave. FROG LEGS TONITE AT COTTAGE INN

RELIEF WORK, CIVIC DUTY, KELLER SAYS

Chairman of Unemployment Committee Asks Support of Lions Club

Aiding Appleton's unemployed and their families is a civic and a God-given duty, Appleton Lions were told Monday night at their weekly luncheon meeting at Con-way hotel by Gustav Keller, Sr., who said that there are no artificial barriers in the way of relief work in charity and good will, and he pleaded for support of the Lions in their plan of administering to the needy and unemployed through a centralized council of relief organizations.

Mr. Keller, as chairman of the Citizens' committee on unemployment, chairman and leader of the group which is formulating plans for administering to Appleton's needy, said that the group will meet tonight to discuss details of a relief organization, mutual plans for which were outlined about two weeks ago at a meeting called by Mayor John Goodland, Jr.

Unemployed men and their families are not professional beggars, Mr. Keller pointed out. They are in life instances people who are victims of circumstances, people who, in the last resort, spent their savings in an effort to keep from asking for help and who now, in dire need in many instances, are too proud to ask and who therefore must be sought out.

A plea for administration of funds for unemployed through the various charitable organizations in the city, many of which have been in existence for many years was made by Mr. Keller.

Would Buy Food
Reminding his audience that many of the women now working for charitable organizations have been doing the work for the past 25 years, Mr. Keller indicated that he did not approve spending several thousand dollars annually for administrative purposes in a charitable organization when the money might better be used to put food into stomachs.

Each charitable organization can well manage its own affairs, he said, and its members will enter homes of the city's unemployed with the spirit of good will and relief, not intent upon a rehabilitation program that is not needed.

The speaker also denied that "the women will throw away money in the relief work," a charge, he said, that often has been hurled at the organizations which would like to administer the relief program in the city.

More than $75,000 will be needed, says Mr. Keller, to take care of Appleton's unemployed and needy for the year ending Dec. 31. Mr. Keller told the Lions. The city last spring set aside $18,000 for poor relief, and on July 1 this year, $21,967 had been spent with indications that another $25,000 will be needed before Jan. 1.

The greatest number of families so far taken care of by the city poor relief has been 169, and the least 96. The Home Aid Bureau, Mr. Keller said last year raised $26,855 for poor relief, $5,000 of which was given the Salvation Army in a lump sum.

The newly proposed plan for centralizing charitable work in the city, Mr. Keller said, is the direct result of an announcement that the home aid bureau backers and directors will not continue for another year.

Under the new plan all relief organizations in the city will form a unified city relief and welfare association, the policy of which will be directed by a representative council and executive committee.

The purposes of the council are four-fold: to study and organize the relief work in Appleton; to avoid duplication of relief work; to adopt a general plan and policy that is uniform throughout the city; and to maintain a system of records fitted for relief work in the city.

Mr. Keller pointed out that under such an organization each group would keep its identity and be able to direct its own work, determine relief and give assistance according to the general plan adopted by the council. Women belonging to these organizations would personally assist with relief as welfare workers.

The proposed council created to conduct the affairs of the association will consist of seven members of the Citizens' Relief committee and five members from each affiliated society, the latter five including the president or chairman, secretary and three additional members. This council will elect officers, namely, president, vice president, secretary and treasurer.

A community store room has been suggested for dispensing commodities and clothing. This store room will be under direction of a special committee appointed by the executive committee, from the membership of the volunteer organizations. It will be conducted according to rules and regulations established by the council.

Outlines Committee Work
Mr. Keller outlined the work of the Citizens' unemployment committee, of which he is chairman. Starting first with a resume of activities in the stock market in 1929, Mr. Keller related that committees such as the Appleton group were organized in an effort to bolster public morale. A state committee was organized by former Governor Walter J. Koster and in turn the many city committees. The thought back to the whole matter was that America had never failed to find a solution to its problems.

Several committees in each city were organized, one called the manufacturing and public utilities committee which had for its purpose cooperation from these sources and its possible stabilization of employment.

The public and private buildings committee was another. Its purpose was to make a survey of the city, learning the building needs and stimulating activity in the building industry that they had to go out and get business.

An employment committee was organized. One of its first jobs was establishing one of a bureau for laborers. The bureau was in the city with the city poor commissioner.

CROP PROSPECTS IN STATE GIVEN SEVERE SETBACK

Hot Weather, Lack of Rain, Responsible for Condition, Report

Madison—(P)—Hot weather and lack of rain in almost all counties gave Wisconsin crop prospects the most severe setback in years last month, Walter Ebling, statistician for the Wisconsin and U. S. Departments of Agriculture, reported today.

Less tobacco and grains are expected and potato prospects are uncertain, Mr. Ebling says in the August crop report. Some relief was afforded by rains during the first part of the month and cooler weather aided somewhat but much of the state is in great need of rain, he said.

Corn prospects declined throughout the state but in some counties the corn crop is not likely to recover from the heat and lack of moisture, Mr. Ebling said. In southern Wisconsin and other counties, however, corn has a good outlook and showed much improvement as a result of recent rains. The Wisconsin corn production is now estimated at 74,795,000 bushels, more than 4,500,000 bushels under the below-average crop of 1930.

The prospects for the grain crops show variation although most are making poor yields, Mr. Ebling said. Winter wheat, rye, barley and other grains which ripen early as well as some of the early oats show good production but practically all of the late grains suffered, the statistician said. Oats production is estimated at 87,945,000 bushels as compared with 108,539,000 bushels harvested a year ago, the lowest yield in 19 years. Barley was less affected and the estimated production is 19,910,000 bushels as compared with 25,011,000 bushels harvested last year. Like oats, the barley yield is the lowest in 19 years, being estimated at 27.5 bushels per acre. Winter wheat yield is estimated at 20 bushels per acre and rye 14.

Mr. Ebling characterized the condition of the potato crop as "very uncertain this year." Hot, dry weather reduced the potato yields until the crop is now estimated at 21,440,000 bushels as compared with the small crop of 18,056,000 bushels harvested last year. For the United States, the production is estimated at 370,580,000 bushels as compared with 333,235,000 last year.

"Prospects for this crop can improve appreciably during August with favorable weather, particularly in areas where the heat has not been excessive," Mr. Ebling reported. "Rains have fallen in some of the Wisconsin potato counties since August 1 and these may help the crop somewhat."

On Aug. 1, the prospects for the tobacco crop were below normal, dry weather and the heat of last month having caused great unevenness in the fields. The southern tobacco area received favorable rains since the first of the month but conditions in the northern area are still satisfactory. The August 1 estimate of 1931 production was 45,150,000 as compared with the 1930 production of 52,990,000 pounds.

NOTED PHYSICIAN DIES IN LOUISIANA

Dr. Aristide Agramonte, Victor Over Yellow Fever, Is Stricken

New Orleans, La.—(P)—Dr. Aristide Agramonte, 63, survivor of the four-member army commission which discovered yellow fever was transmitted by mosquitoes and found means for its control, was dead today from a heart attack.

The eminent Cuban physician was stricken last night shortly after he had been ordered to bed for a bronchial attack.

Dr. Agramonte came to New Orleans last month to organize a department of tropical diseases at the new medical school of the Louisiana State university. He had served as professor of bacteriology at the University of Havana from 1908 until his resignation under the Cuban political disturbances this year.

Dr. Agramonte was awarded the medal of the Order of the Liberator Simon Bolivar, the highest award of Ecuador, for work in treating tropical diseases and had received various medals and degrees from American universities and organizations.

At the time of his death he was president of the Pan-American Medical association in Mexico City.

The army commission of which Dr. Agramonte was a member included Dr. Walter Reed, Dr. Jesse Lazear and Dr. James Carroll. The commission worked with General Crawford Gorgas.

Daylight is now scientifically measured in Great Britain.

Professional Insulter Is Paid In Hollywood

BY JESSIE HENDERSON
Copyright, 1931, by Cass Press
Hollywood, (CPA)—It's one thing to insult people for pleasure but it's quite another to make a living doing so, as Vincent Barnett does. He receives $100 per insult. And he insults the best celebrities.

Barnett, though he works in pictures as a side line now and then, is professionally an insulter. He began insulting folks at public functions a year ago, and making "fun" of them. His reputation for entrapping the goats of the renowned has grown to such proportions that he has to stay awake nights thinking up more terrible remarks. Beginning as an amateur, Barnett has achieved a place in the front rank of professional gibe hurlers. As a matter of fact he is the only insulter in the world who not only always gets away with it but gets paid for getting fresh.

There was recently, for instance, a dinner at which many of the greatest film stars were present. Norma Shearer laid her vanity case on the table beside her plate. Up rushed Barnett, in the guise of a waiter, and tossed the vanity case on the floor.

"Very unsanitary," he muttered, to the astonishment of everyone not in the know.

Almost Starts Fight
Miss Shearer's escort picked up the vanity case and put it on the table again, keeping a wary lookout for the waiter's second approach. But the second time Barnett approached, Miss Shearer had her elbow on the table, too. The waiter whisked her elbow off, growling in an undertone: "Never put your elbow on the table." This was going too far. The escort rose with him, but Barnett had him by the collar. Barnett had had many a fist doubled at him in the course of his professional duties. The instant a hand clenches, he falls down, even though carrying a full tray of soup plates.

At another formal banquet Barnett, as waiter, snatched plates from the guests at the speaker's table before they had a chance to eat a bite. He planked another course down before them, and—as soon as a head was turned—snatched the food away again. He also succeeded in spilling a plateful of ice cream down the neck of El Brendel's cherished tuxedo. And got paid for doing it, mind you.

But he isn't always a waiter. At

Tariff Issue and Roosevelt Challenge Bringing It to Boiling Point

Washington—(CP)—Washington's usual August political quiet is reverberating this year with inter-party and intra-party turmoil that has caught the attention of national leaders.

Governor Roosevelt of New York is commanding the limelight with a dual attack. His challenge to the Tammany machine within his own party in powerful New York City and to President Hoover on the St. Lawrence waterway and power issue has punctuated the political stillness of the capital.

Coincidentally, Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi, who has been mentioned as a Democratic challenger to Roosevelt in the pre-convention, comes forth with specific terms for a tariff debate with a Republican opponent—Senator Dickinson of Iowa.

Alive to the sudden Democratic offensive, President Hoover hastened back to the White House yesterday to reply to their thrusts.

As for Governor Roosevelt's unpublished letter to him on the St. Lawrence waterway and power question, Mr. Hoover turned the reply over to Acting Secretary of State Castle. Mr. Castle replied that "no secret negotiations" with Canada relating to the project were in progress but Governor Roosevelt's letter was not made public here.

PRIZES AWARDED IN CLUB EXHIBITS

Monday Attendance at Seymour Fair Smaller Than That for Sunday

BY W. F. WINSEY
Seymour—Attendance at the Seymour fair was not as large Monday afternoon as Sunday, but it was satisfactory, according to George F. Fiedler, secretary. He estimated the attendance Sunday afternoon at 18,000 and Sunday evening at 12,000. The program aside from the races, was the same.

The judges completed their work Monday afternoon after working continuously a day and one-half, and some of them till 9 o'clock Sunday evening.

In the booth exhibits of 4-H club girls of Outagamie-co the So Rite 4-H club was awarded first place; the Happy Valley Workers, second place; the Elmer E. Fingers Sewing club, third place; the Wide Awake Forward 4-H club, fourth place; the Woodland 4-H club, fifth place; the Sunny Nook Sewing club, sixth place; the Riverview 4-H club, seventh place; and the Happy Hearts 4-H club, eighth place.

In the contest of 4-H calf clubs of Outagamie-co, the Bank of Kaukauna 4-H Calf club, C. D. Towles, local leader, was awarded first place, and the Sunnyside 4H Calf club, Emil Mueller, local leader, was awarded second place. The former club showed 12 calves and the latter 10 calves. The Pleasant Hills 4-H Calf club, Alfred Handeckke, local leader, was awarded third place. This club showed five calves.

Mrs. L. D. Hopkins, club leader of Brown-co, judged the 4-H club booths and also the individual exhibits of the club girls, and B. P. Wescott, Ripon, judged the calves. Mrs. Hopkins also judged the work of demonstration teams whose work had been directed by Miss Harriet Thompson, home demonstration agent, and local leaders.

Female Population Grows More Rapidly Than Male

Washington—(CP)—A female population increasing more rapidly than the male was revealed today by the census bureau.

Whereas in 1920 there were 104 men and boys to each 100 women and girls, that sex ratio now stands at 102.5.

Even in virile Nevada, which had 100 women ten years ago, the males now outnumber by only 140 3 to 100. No other state even approximated the Nevada preponderance, though Wyoming with 123.8 and Montana with 120 brought echoes of the days when the plains chiefs heard the cowboy sing to restless herds.

Back in 1880, Montana had 256.6 males to each 100 females, Wyoming had 213 and Nevada 207.5.

The District of Columbia, at the other end of the scale, had but 90.9 men to each 100 women. Massachusetts had 95.1 Rhode Island 95.2. Women outnumbered men in eleven against seven states counting the District of Columbia in the last census. New Hampshire, Connecticut, Tennessee and Louisiana were added to a list which already included Massachusetts, Rhode Island, District of Columbia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Alabama.

More Males In U. S.
However, there were 149,114 more males than females in the 122,775,046 population of the entire United States.

The native white population of native white parentage included 48,010,145 males and 47,437,655 females, a 101.1 ratio as compared with a 101.7 ratio ten years ago.

The Negro population comprised 5,835,569 males and 6,035,474 females or 97 males per 100 females, as compared with 99.2 in 1920.

Chinese, Japanese, and Mexican males far outnumbered females. The Chinese population was 23,588 males to 3,339 females, a 686.8 ratio. The Japanese ratio was 276.3, the Mexican 165.6.

Sectionally, the north had approximately the same sex ratio as the country at large; the south had a relatively higher proportion of females; the west a relatively higher proportion of males.

cating in migration of Negroes from the south, males have been somewhat more numerous than females.

POLITICAL POT SIMMERING AT U. S. CAPITAL

Tariff Issue and Roosevelt Challenge Bringing It to Boiling Point

Washington—(CP)—Washington's usual August political quiet is reverberating this year with inter-party and intra-party turmoil that has caught the attention of national leaders.

Governor Roosevelt of New York is commanding the limelight with a dual attack. His challenge to the Tammany machine within his own party in powerful New York City and to President Hoover on the St. Lawrence waterway and power issue has punctuated the political stillness of the capital.

Coincidentally, Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi, who has been mentioned as a Democratic challenger to Roosevelt in the pre-convention, comes forth with specific terms for a tariff debate with a Republican opponent—Senator Dickinson of Iowa.

Alive to the sudden Democratic offensive, President Hoover hastened back to the White House yesterday to reply to their thrusts.

As for Governor Roosevelt's unpublished letter to him on the St. Lawrence waterway and power question, Mr. Hoover turned the reply over to Acting Secretary of State Castle. Mr. Castle replied that "no secret negotiations" with Canada relating to the project were in progress but Governor Roosevelt's letter was not made public here.

Program For Jobless
Meanwhile, the president is going ahead in his own way on his formation of an unemployed program which recent Republican visitors to the White House have assured the country Mr. Hoover is preparing.

Joseph Shouse, executive chairman of the Democratic national committee, has called for details of this program reported in preparation. While his demand was quickly noted at the White House it appeared today that the president was going to ignore it and make his proposal in his own time.

Democratic politicians were weighing closely the move of Governor Roosevelt in calling into special session his legislature in response to the Republicans of the special committee investigating conditions in New York City. The interpretation of New York newspapers that the move was a challenge to the Tammany organization in control of New York City's Democratic administration provoked the keen interest of the party outside of New York.

Alfred E. Smith, Democratic standard bearer of 1928, is a member of Tammany. He has so far refrained from announcing his position in the 1932 Democratic presidential contest.

Despite the eagerness of Senator Harrison, who is the ranking Democrat on the finance committee, to go to the country in debate with Senator Dickinson of Iowa, on the tariff issue, there appears to be no doubt that the administration is anxious, too, to make this an issue next year.

Challenge Accepted
The Republican national committee publicity bureau has been hammering steadily on the tariff all summer and Senator Dickinson's acceptance of the Harrison challenge for a tariff debate came through the Republican publicity organization.

While Governor Roosevelt is carrying on a two-front battle, within and without the party, the same may be said of the Republican leader, President Hoover. He is not only busy defending his administration and preparing for the future but there is every indication that he also is keeping a close eye on possible trouble within the Republican fold. "Republicans close to the administration have been quick of recent days to reply to every attack that carries with it danger of an intra-party uprising against Mr. Hoover's re-nomination.

POLICY CHANGE IS CRITICIZED BY CLERGYMEN

Radio Company Institutes
New Non-commercial Plan

BY ROBERT MACK
Copyright, 1931, by Cons. Press
Washington—(CPA)—First reactions to the Columbia Broadcasting system's new non-commercial policy in the handling of religious broadcasts came in the nature of recriminations by the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, Catholic priest, whose provocative broadcasts over the Columbia network from the Church of the Little Flower, Detroit, aroused considerable comment last spring and winter and evoked one of the most prolific floods of fan mail received by any radio speaker.

Father Coughlin charged that "ulterior motives" prompted Columbia to shift from its policy of selling time for church broadcasts to one of allotting regular periods gratis to the three organized faiths—Protestant, Catholic and Jewish. Without commenting on this charge, Columbia officials declare they intend to stand by their plan of refusing to sell periods for religious broadcasts. This policy, pursued from the start by the National Broadcasting company, was obviously decided upon to avoid the great demands for time being made by religious denomination—demands which, if conceded, might upset the network's plan to balance its programs in order to maintain a continuing popular appeal.

Might Go Too Far
Under public utility standards, it was feared, Columbia might find itself forced to sell time to any and all religious groups if it sold such time to one. Many such groups are so powerful financially, and others are so certain that they could foot the bill for their broadcasting by appeals for funds to the radio audience, that demands for time for religious broadcasts were gradually encroaching upon sponsored and sustaining program schedules.

Father Coughlin himself, without appealing to the audience for funds, was so eloquent a speaker and so convincing in his criticisms of the existing order of things, social and economic, that thousands of dollars were voluntarily subscribed by radio listeners to his support.

Father Coughlin announced that he is entering into an agreement with an independent group of stations to continue his talks and sermons during the forthcoming autumn and winter seasons. The key of this network, he said, will be WGR, Detroit, and it will include such stations as WOR, Newark; WLW, Cincinnati; KGO, Cleveland; WGR, Buffalo; WTSP, St. Paul; WEEI, Boston; WTIC, Hartford; WTAC, Worcester; WCSH, Portland, Me.; and WJAK, Providence. Other stations, he indicated, are to be added.

Beginning Sept. 13, with an address by the Right Rev. Dr. Irving Peake Johnson, bishop of Colorado, who will speak from Denver, Columbia will inaugurate its new "church on the air," devoting two half hour periods to organized religion each Sunday. The Catholic period will be initiated the same day by Cardinal William O'Connell, archbishop of Boston, and there will be a Jewish period the same day featuring Dr. Jonah B. Wise, chairman of the Jewish distribution committee fund.

LIBRARY USED AS AID TO HISTORY

Many Documents Tell of Early Life on Fox River Valley

Students of local history, interested in the early settlement and growth of Appleton and the Fox River valley, are using the public library's historical references, according to Miss Mary de Jonge, reference librarian.

"In addition to various books and papers about the early history of Appleton, the library has a newspaper file which is a valuable source of historical information. People are cordially invited to use the material at the library in studying the early days of the city," Miss de Jonge said.

Proving that such study was not limited to students and writers, Miss de Jonge cited the case of a local business man who has become an authority on local history. His interest in the subject began when he inadvertently came upon a book at the library which dealt with the settlement of Appleton. Following that new interest he has read all available data on Appleton's early history and has been of valuable assistance in adding to the library's files material on the subject.

NAVY DIRIGIBLE TRIAL
Washington—Works on the navy's rigid airship, the ZRS-4, now being constructed at Akron, is expected to be completed in time for the initial trial flight during the last half of August. Trial flights will probably consist of five or six takeoffs and descents, and a duration flight of at least 48 hours. These flights will give officials an opportunity to check fuel consumption, parts of the ship, and speed.

65,500 FOOTBALL DUGAT APPLICATION BLANKS ARE ISSUED

Largest Percentage of Forms Go to Alumni of State University

Madison—(AP)—A total of 65,500 ticket applications for University of Wisconsin football games this fall are being mailed out by the ticket sales department of the university this week.

The bulk of the applications are going to alumni of the university, a total of 54,000 being sent, of which 12,000 call for privileged seats at Camp Randall stadium. Civic clubs, associations of commerce, and the general public are receiving 10,000 applications, while 1,500 former letter winners also get applications.

Nine games are on the Wisconsin schedule, five of them at home. The season's opener, a double-header with Bradley Polytechnic Institute, Peoria, Ill., and North Dakota State college, Fargo, will be played here Oct. 3. There are no reserved seats for these games, a general admission of $1 being charged. The next week, Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Auburn, plays an intercollegiate game in the stadium here. Seats are $2, and the mail order sale closes Sept. 26.

The first major game of the Wisconsin card will be played here Oct. 17 with Purdue as the foe. The Both, ermarkers will be the Bad's day attraction, and for the first time in many years all seats will not be $3. Some of the poorer seats are to be sold for $2 this year, the ticket office says. The mail order for the game closes Oct. 3.

Wisconsin's gridgers go on the road for three successive weeks starting Oct. 24. On that date they play at Franklin field, Philadelphia, with Pennsylvania as the foe. The next Saturday, the Badgers are at Minneapolis for the annual game with Minnesota, and the following week they play Illinois at Urbana, renewing relations dormant since 1923. All games are $3, and the ticket department here can secure seats, it says.

Wisconsin's last home game will be Nov. 14 against Ohio State and the attraction is homecoming. A near capacity crowd already is anticipated. Seats sell for $3 each, and the mail order for them closes Oct. 31. The Badgers close their season at Chicago, where they tackle the Maroons on Stagg field on Nov. 21.

The practice of selling season books for all home games is being revived by the ticket office. The books cost $3, and entitle the holder to admission at the double-header and a reserved seat for other games in Randall stadium.

WAUWATOSA IS LEADING STATE IN GROWTH RATE

Census Bureau Shows Increase of 264.3 Per Cent in Population

Madison.—(P)—Wauwatosa, a suburb of Milwaukee, is the fastest growing city in Wisconsin, according to figures received here today from the census bureau.

The 1920 census gave Wauwatosa a population of 21,194 which represented an increase of 264.3 per cent over the preceding census. The 1900 census showed a population of 2,842 while that of 1910 gave the city 3,246. In 1920, the population was 5,313.

The fastest growing village in Wisconsin is Shorewood, another Milwaukee suburb, the census report shows. Shorewood had a population of 767 in 1910, and 8,850 in 1920. The 1930 census gave it a population of 12,479, representing an increase of 408.6 per cent over the preceding census.

Only two of the principal cities of the state lost in population during the decade ending in 1930. Ashland with a 1930 population of 19,622 showed a loss of 6.3 per cent over the preceding census, while Superior with a 1930 population of 35,113 showed a loss of 9.3 per cent.

La Crosse showed a 30.2 per cent increase over the preceding census by gaining a population of 39,614 in 1930. In the previous census the increase had been less than one-tenth of one per cent. In 1910 the population was 30,417, and in 1920 there were only four more inhabitants.

The rate of increase over the preceding census is as follows for the other principal cities of the state:

Appleton, 29.2 per cent; Beloit, 10.9 per cent; Cudahy, 58.1 per cent; Eau Claire, 25.7 per cent; Fond du Lac, 12.9 per cent; Green Bay, 20.6 per cent; Janesville, 18.2 per cent; Kenosha, 24.2 per cent; Madison, 50.8 per cent; Manitowoc, 30.7 per cent; Marinette, 0.9 per cent; Milwaukee, 26.5 per cent; Oshkosh, 20.9 per cent; Racine, 15.3 per cent; Sheboygan, 26.8 per cent; South Milwaukee, 40.9 per cent; Stevens Point, 19.8 per cent; Two Rivers, 38 per cent; Watertown, 14.1 per cent; Waukesha, 38.8 per cent; Wausau, 27.3 per cent, and West Allis, 152.2 per cent.

The census report showed Milwaukee as the largest city of the state with a population of 578,249. Racine is second largest 67,542 inhabitants. The other principal cities of the state rank in the following order:

Madison, 57,899; Kenosha, 50,262; Oshkosh, 40,108; La Crosse, 39,614; Sheboygan, 39,251; Green Bay, 37,415; Superior, 35,113; West Allis, 34,671; Fond du Lac, 26,449; Eau Claire, 26,287; Appleton, 25,267; Wausau, 25,154; Beloit, 22,811; Manitowoc, 22,363; Janesville, 21,628; Wauwatosa, 21,194; Waukesha, 17,176; Marinette, 13,724; Stevens Point, 12,822; Shorewood (village), 12,479; South Milwaukee, 10,706; Cudahy, 10,631; Ashland, 10,622; Watertown, 10,613; and two Rivers, 10,053.

311 MORE DEATHS IN STATE IN 6 MONTHS

Madison.—(P)—An increase of 311 deaths for the first half of 1931 over the same period a year ago has been recorded by the bureau of vital statistics, state board of health. The six months total for 1931 was 19,045 deaths, exclusive of stillbirths, and increases in deaths were noted from causes of violence, influenza, cancer and pneumonia. Among the principal death causes, tuberculosis was the only one to show a decrease.

SEE BRICK WINE QUESTION GOING TO SUPREME COURT

Home-made Beverage Matter Is Expected to Be Carried to Highest Tribunal

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Washington.—The men come around to bottle your wine concentrate after a couple of months and you ask them what's the alcoholic content of the finished product. They say they don't know.

Equal uncertainty seems to envelop the whole issue. Courts have disagreed about the concentrate method of home wine-making, the drys are divided and the federal government itself first lends millions of dollars to one large firm organized to produce the stuff and then raids the agencies of others. The only group to maintain a consistent, united attitude has been the concentrate industry, which insists that the scheme is perfectly legal under Section 29 of the Volstead Act.

Nevertheless, the volume of protest from both wet and drys and the recent increased interest of the government is expected to lead to a test case in which the question will finally be decided by the U. S. Supreme Court. That high tribunal will have to straighten out the mix-up caused by the framers of the Volstead Act when they undertook to cover the matter of wine-making in the home.

Now, just to get the facts straight if possible:

The Eighteenth Amendment prohibits manufacture of intoxicating liquors. Section 1 of the Volstead Act defines intoxicating liquor to include "wine" or any "vinous" or "fermented" liquors containing one-half of one per cent of alcohol, which are fit for beverage purposes.

Section 18 prohibits manufacture or sale of any preparation, substance or compound designed or intended for use in the unlawful manufacture of intoxicating liquor.

Section 25 prohibits issuance of search warrants for private homes unless the place is being used for unlawful sale.

Section 29 says the penalties shall not apply "to any person for manufacturing non-intoxicating cider and fruit juices exclusively for use in his home."

Some courts have held that "non-intoxicating" meant the same thing in Section 29 as in Section 1. Others say the Section 1 definition doesn't apply because if it had complete application there would have been no sense in tossing Section 29 into the act. Most legal opinion has seemed to favor the theory that the half of one per cent rule applied to commercialized beverages while the legality of the home-made stuff depended on whether it were intoxicating in fact.

Army's "Mother," 70, Still Entertains Nation's Soldiers

"Mother of the United States Army"—that's the name that has been given to "Mother" Davison, 70, a sister of the late David Belasco. She is shown above at the Citizen's Military Training Camp, Plattsburg, N. Y., displaying her most prized possession—a belt studded with medals and regimental insignia given to her by dying soldiers whom she attended during the World War. With her trouper, she tours the country, entertaining soldiers, sailors and marines. She recently was decorated with a medal by General Summerall.

which must be decided by a jury in each individual prosecution. The two very practical considerations which appear to have kept federal authorities from going after home winemakers, however, seem to be Section 25, which makes it virtually impossible under federal law to seize one's own personal liquor in

- 1 Iso-Vis Motor Oil did not thin out from dilution.
- 2 During the entire test of 9,000 miles, the engines and chassis of all cars were lubricated effectively.
- 3 Oil Added: only 68/100 of a quart—average for all cars—of Iso-Vis 50 (Heavy) in 1,000 mile test at 30 miles per hour.

Watch for the ISO-VIS TEST CARS

15 Iso-Vis test cars used at Indianapolis Speedway in intensive lubrication study conducted by American Automobile Association are now on individual tours to auto dealers from Michigan to Montana. Watch for them.

This Ball and Bottle Test lets you SEE that New Iso-Vis will not thin out from dilution

YOU can't tell much about motor oil just by looking at it. Even experts can't. But these little balls can tell you a lot. They'll show you how heavy an oil is. Watch them sink through the oil in these bottles. Look! The New Iso-Vis that has been used hundreds of miles shows up just as heavy as the fresh oil. Here's proof you can see—New Iso-Vis will not thin out from dilution. If you are willing to be convinced, get a fill of New Iso-Vis today. Then at draining time, go to any Standard Oil Service Station or dealer, and make this Ball and Bottle Test, with oil from your own car. That's a challenge. You be the judge.

the home and establish evidence of its manufacture, and the difficulty of taking many cases into court and getting juries to decide in each case that the wine is non-intoxicating in fact.

The makers of wine concentrate cite Section 29, but they must be especially careful to protect themselves under Section 18. The proof of the seller's intent or state of mind is generally difficult and can be established only by facts and circumstances attending the sale. Thus the more careful manufacturers and dealers do not claim that the product makes wine or that it will have alcoholic content. Instead, they promise your money back if you are not satisfied. The less careful ones are likely to be raided. All prosecutions against concentrate dealers thus far have been based on Section 18 and allegations of advertising or sales methods indicating illegal intent. Vendors of wine bricks recently arrested in New York are charged with boasting that the bricks would make "wine with a kick." Fruit Industries, which has Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt as its counsel, permits its salesmen and bottlers to make no such rash promise.

Average costs for educating a student at the University of Maine are $536 a year.

CHAPPLE COMES BACK TO STATE FOR 1932 FIGHT

Ashland Republican Girds for Battle With La-Follette Forces

BY RUBY A. BLACK
Post-Crescent Washington Correspondent

Washington—John R. Chapple of Ashland, the serious-minded and indefatigable young regular Republican from Ashland who has set out to lick the La-Follette and carry Wisconsin for Hoover in 1932, started back to Wisconsin Sunday after a trip, mostly by airplane, to the east, including a conference with President Hoover.

He arrived here Wednesday. Thursday he went to the White House for a three-minute talk with President Hoover. He gave out a prepared statement—no, two of them—on the subject of his coming out, setting forth the Wisconsin situation. One attacked Sen. John J. Blaine for saying that the administration is a traitor to the country for its intervention in European affairs and Sen. Robert M. La-Follette Jr., for referring to President Hoover's "hypocrisy" in unemployment relief and prevention.

"But they say nothing about the hypocrisy of the La-Follette unemployment program in Wisconsin where they are in control," this statement said, and went on to relate that less than a thousand jobs had been provided by the La-Follette grade-crossing elimination program, advertised as containing 10,000 jobs, while "a fund of $15,000,000 has been provided for distribution through a political committee of the La-Follette progressive-socialist political trust."

Visits Wife

After his visit to the White House, Chapple rushed out to catch an airplane to New Haven, Conn., to visit his wife and children. He got back here Saturday in time to fly with assistant secretary of the navy Ernest L. Jahncke to Newport News, Va., to watch Mrs. Hoover christen some ships. Then Jahncke and Chapple flew to Cleveland, Ohio, and spent the night there. Sunday afternoon they expect to arrive in Ashland, Chapple's home town.

Monday they flew to Chippewa Falls, where Assistant Secretary Jahncke will speak at the state American Legion banquet that night and on the following day will serve as reviewing officer at the Legion parade.

Young Chapple feels that the "collapse of the La-Follette unemployment program" has caused many people to feel that it would have been better to keep Walter J. Kohler as governor during the depression. Besides, German people in Wisconsin do not like Blaine's criticism of Hoover's efforts to stabilize Germany, he said. Chapple commented, had to support Hoover on the moralism plan.

The longer statement issued by Chapple at the White House forecast that "open rebellion against the merger of La-Follette and Socialism will be strikingly expressed by citizens of Wisconsin in the elections of 1932." Chapple spoke of Sen. Thomas Duncan, new secretary to Gov. Philip F. La-Follette, of William T. Evjue, "editor of the newspaper mouthpiece of the La-Follette," President Glenn Frank of the University of Wisconsin, Prof. Alexander McJannet as "advisers or committee members of various organizations closely affiliated with the Socialist and Communist groups seeking to wipe out the American system."

The Wisconsin League of Municipalities and the Wisconsin State Federation of Labor have been captured temporarily by "the interlocked destructive forces," Chapple said, and these same forces "are working diligently to poison the minds of students of the University of Wisconsin toward the American economic system and to turn them into Socialists," Chapple continued.

"It is all the same as in Russia, he concluded—the same program 'that threatened Germany until President Hoover saved that nation from capitulating,'" Chapple put it. In fact, it is an attack on private property, morals, and religion, he insisted in his statement.

BUILDING PROGRAM TO GIVE JOBS TO 100,000

Washington—(AP)—Treasury officials estimate work for 100,000 additional men will be furnished this winter and in the next two years by the government's $700,000,000 public building program, about $500,000,000 of which is to be expended outside of the District of Columbia.

In all, approximately 150,000 men will be given employment directly and indirectly during the winter and as more projects get under way the number will be increased. At present government building construction is providing employment for 32,000.

The increase of 100,000 in employment on public buildings will result from the getting under way of a number of large and costly buildings and additional small projects.

3,291 EMPLOYED IN MINES, QUARRIES

(Post-Crescent Washington Bureau) Washington—Mines and quarries in Wisconsin provided jobs for an average of 3,291 workers during 1929 and paid out $3,293,579 in salaries for the year, the Census Bureau announced today.

Of this sum, $367,228 was paid to 834 salaried officers and employees and the remaining $2,926,351 went to the 2,457 wage earners.

The total output of the 161 Wisconsin mines and quarries included in the report had a value of $13,583,445 and $2,641,703 was spent by these enterprises for supplies and fuel used in operation.

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

by Ely Culbertson
World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

A DOUBLE COUP WITH ONE ENTRY

THE OPPORTUNITY to execute what is known as a coup in Bridge is comparatively rare and even when the opportunity occurs, most players are at a loss as to the manner in which to execute it.

The general term "coup," when applied in Bridge, means a lead or play of unusual significance. The coup with which we deal today is a play which involves two elements; namely, using an end trump to capture an adverse trump and honor, when there are no trumps in partner's hand, usually the Dummy, to lead through the adverse honor, and secondly, reducing the trumps in the dominant trump hand to the same number as those held by the opponent so that this hand will not have to trump prematurely at the end and thus lead up to the adverse honor. All simple coups contain these two elements. Recently in a Duplicate game I saw the following example of the true coup situation.

North—Dealer
S—J 7 6 5 4 3 2
H—A 10 9 8
D—K 8 7 6 5 4 3 2
C—A Q 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

South obtained the contract at four spades without adverse bidding. West's Opening lead was the 10 of clubs, on which the Knave, the Queen and the King were played. Trick 2 was won by the King of spades. West was playing the 9. In spite of his fear that West's 9 was a singleton, South thought it best to play for the 3-2 division, and won the third trick with the Queen of spades on which West played the 4 of diamonds. The necessity for the double coup was then disclosed. But South's problem was how to execute the double coup with only one entry in Dummy, and also how to avoid being in the lead at trick 12. One ruff could be obtained on the third round of hearts, but the only way to get the second ruff was by giving the adversaries a chance to lead clubs or hearts when South could trump either of these suits that might be led. Of course, if South could lead up the 8 of clubs before the Ace of hearts, and thus discard the losing diamond, or overtrump East, the contract could be made without the double coup, but these contingencies seemed unlikely. If West had led the 10 of clubs from 4, headed by the 10 and 9, he could not be expected to lead the last club after winning the third round with the 9, nor would he lead the heart, as that would allow the lead of the set-up 8 of clubs, and this would be the same as a trump lead through East. West could only be expected to lead a diamond when in with the 9 of clubs. The diamond lead would, of course, be returned by East, and South would be forced to trump the third round. He would then be without a card of exit, and would be forced to trump the third round of hearts, and then to lead away from the Ace and 10 of spades, thus losing a spade trick in addition to the club and two diamonds already lost.

South saw that if West held the lone 9 of clubs, the lead of the Ace would lead to a set-up of 8 of clubs, and allow him to make the 8, using the Ace of hearts as his re-entry. This would allow the discard of a diamond, and result in the fulfillment of the contract. Therefore, South decided to lead the 7 of clubs at once, and, if this failed to drop the 9, then to take in the King and Ace of hearts, to trump the third round of hearts, and then to lead the deuce of clubs, with the hope that the next lead of the adversary would be a club or a heart. This plan was carried out. On the third round of hearts, East discarded the 5 of diamonds. When West failed to follow to the third club lead, the 6 of clubs was played from Dummy, and was won by East's 7. East then obligingly led the 9 of clubs, and South completed the double coup, and threw the lead at trick 10 with a diamond, and won the last two tricks with his trump tenace, thus making his contract.

Today's Pointer

An Overall in opponent's bid suit shows a very freakish distribution of 4 or more honor-tricks in hand; it also shows control of first lead of adverse suit (either the Ace, possibly accompanied by a void in the suit).

After partner has made a bid, an Overall in opponent's bid suit indicates Slam possibilities and generally no losers in adverse suit.

Mr. Culbertson will be glad to answer questions on bidding and play of hands sent in by readers. Address him in care of this newspaper. ENCLOSING A TWO-CENT STAMPED SELF-ADDRESSED ENVELOPE.

Your Birthday

WHAT TOMORROW MEANS TO YOU
"LEO"

If August 19th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 11 a. m. to 1 p. m., from 5 p. m. to 6:45 p. m., and 11 p. m. to midnight. The danger periods are from 7 a. m. to 9 a. m., and 2:30 p. m. to 4 p. m.

Prospects from a material standpoint are not encouraging, from the astrological omen for August 19th. The depression, sense of nervous exhaustion and futility, experienced during the day will disappear after 9 p. m. and life will once more seem worth living.

An over-sensitive nature will make life difficult for the child born on this August 19th. It will lack "push," and will need considerable moral support, to encourage it to achievement. It will be affectionate, and will wilt under harsh treatment. A pleasing manner will endear it to one and all.

Born on August 19th, you have considerable fire in your nature. You are not in the least aggressive or pugnacious, but your aliveness, vigour and enthusiasm are quickly sensed. You have intellect allied to temperament. Your emotions are not so harnessed in as to life romanticism and sentiment. Life itself, not a mimicry of life, satisfies you.

You are fond of show and ceremony, and proud of your own attainments and accomplishments. With people, you are taken in by external appearances too much, to be a reliable judge of real character. Not of a suspicious nature, you are loath to look for vicious traits in others. You are extremely loyal to your friends, and stick up for them through thick and thin. You are more than a fair weather friend, and are a real solace and help in time of need.

You do not exhibit any marked talents, but you can turn an apt hand to a number of things, and win success. You enter into things with a winning attitude of mind, and failures do not knock you out, or keep you down. A certain amount of physical labor or exercise is essential to one of your temperament — your energy needs to be used up. In money matters, you are cautious and calculating, without being stingy. You do not intend to be caught unprepared when your rainy days arrive.

A warning against substitutes for genuine Kotex

YES, some substitutes are cleverly made to look like Kotex. But that doesn't make them the same. Are they clean, like Kotex? Scientifically made in surroundings of hospital cleanliness? Have modern methods been used, so that hands have never touched them? These questions remain unanswered, when you accept a substitute of whose makers you know nothing. But these are questions of vital importance, because they are directly related to your health. Accept no substitute of whose origin you are uncertain. Demand Kotex—the genuine. Hospitals use Kotex. It fully meets their requirements. Kotex is supremely comfortable. Shaped to fit. Adjustable. Disposable. Stays soft for hours.

National League Team Wins First Game Of City Softball Series

FORDS DEFEAT FOX RIVER IN TITLE OPENER

Second Tilt To Be Played Wednesday; Co. D vs. Woolens Tonight

WEEK'S SCHEDULE
Tuesday — Woolens vs. Co. D (Roosevelt).

WEEK'S RESULTS
Brandis (N) 6, Fox River (A) 3.

In a game that featured almost everything in the baseball world, the August Brandis company softball team of the National league beat the Fox River Paper company team, 6 and 3. The game was the first of the city title series, the teams being champions of their respective leagues.

The fracas also featured the first win of the current series for the National league. In five inter-league games played last week, the National leaguers took it on the chin every time.

Strikeouts last night were more or less few and far between. Lauten, schlager of the Brandis whiffed but two batters and Horn of the Fox River turned in a like number. The Fox River had six errors and the Brandis five.

Each team scored a run in the first inning, and the score was tied at one all until the third frame when Hardacker got a double for the Fords and galloped home on a couple infield outs to give the Fords a 2 and 1 advantage.

Both Score In Fifth

The fifth inning saw both sides score runs. The Fox River picked up two during the frame on two hits and an error and sacrifice. Ferd and Bauman tallied during the period. When the Brandis came to bat they staged a grand uprising that saw Tietz, Koffarnus, Hardacker and Versteeg go scampering home. The latter was shoved over the plate on a perfect squeeze play engineered with Reuthe's help.

Two double plays were fielding gems of the evening's fracas. Tonight the two second place teams in league competition, the Co. D team and the Woolen Mills will play at Roosevelt diamond.

Wednesday evening the second game of the title series is booked at Brandis park. It again will begin at 5:30.

Thisty Asks 55 Gridders Report At U. W., Sept. 15

ADISON — (CP) — Fifty-five men, 16 of them major letter winners, have been asked to report here Sept. 15 for the opening of football practice at the University of Wisconsin, Coach Glenn F. Thisthaite announced today.

BREWS GET 18 HITS AND DEFEAT BIRDS; HENS LOSE TO BLUES

St. Paul and Indianapolis Stage Thriller; Saints Cop 6 and 4

BY WILLIAM WEEKES
Associated Press Sports Writer.
CHICAGO — (CP) — Even when the Indianapolis Indians lose a ball game these days—or nights—they are good for a lot of thrills.

The American association leader, St. Paul, last night evened up its important series with the Indians, but had to stop one of those famous ninth inning finishes to win a 6 to 4 decision. The Saints led by 4 to 0 as the Indians went to bat in the seventh. Emmett McCann's men scored twice in that inning, and after the Saints had scored two more in the ninth, another uprising, which caused John Murphy to seek cover, produced two more runs. Slim Harris was hustled to the rescue and managed to stop the never-say-die Indians in time to save the victory.

Joe Maley had to do some strong relief pitching to save a 9 to 8 victory for Kansas City over Toledo. Billy Bayne couldn't make it alone and Maley halted the Mud Hens who already had punched over two runs. Toledo outbatted the Blues, 16 to 13, but the latter punched their blows in the first, fourth and eighth innings, each of which produced three runs. Johnny Mostil and Clark Pittman got four hits apiece for the brood.

Milwaukee combined 18 hits with three Columbus errors to score an 11 to 6 victory over the Red Birds. Alex Metzler, with two doubles and a brace of singles, led the assault on Littlejohn, Brown and Eckert. Art Shires retired in the fifth inning after being badly shaken up while sliding into the plate. Before he went away, however, he got two hits in three times at bat, to outshine Bevo. Labourer, one of the Birds, who connected only once in five trips.

The Minneapolis-Louisville game was postponed because of rain.

FLYING DUTCHMAN II WINS OSKOSH RACE

Oshkosh — (CP) — Starting in an almost dead calm, Flying Dutchman II, skippered by C. D. Weyerhaeuser, White Bear Lake Yacht club, Minnesota, yesterday won the Class A race of the Inland Lakes Yachting association regatta on Lake Winnebago.

The winning time of 2:47 was made possible by a breeze that arose after the 15 racers entered had taken nearly 50 minutes to finish the first leg of the first lap.

Bice Devil, skippered by Thomas E. Irvine, of the same club, was second, and White Cap III, sailed by Emory F. Jaeger, Delavan Lake, was third.

Class C and D races are to be run throughout this morning and another Class A race will be run this afternoon.

Calling the Strikes

New York — (CPA) — Tony Cuccinello, who's a good fellow, made six hits in six times at bat against Boston. By no means the first player to make six hits in six times at bat in one game, but three of the bingles were two baggers and one a triple.

The Italians recently launched a big ocean liner and made a heap of fuss over it, but here in the United States Bill Killefer and Dan Howley have been launching two of the best second basemen in big league baseball—Melillo and Cuccinello. Every time that you hear their names pronounced you feel the going around the corner and singing. "When it's night time in Italy, it's pay day over here."

CUBS WIN 2 FROM BRAVES AND MOVE INTO 2ND PLACE

Trail St. Louis Entry by 8 1-2 Games; Malone Wins Opener

BY HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

THE Chicago Cubs picked in April to give the champion St. Louis Cardinals a fight for the National league pennant, apparently have decided a little late in the day to do something about the run-away the Cards have made of the race in the Heydler circuit.

Winning their second double-header with the Boston Braves in as many days, the Cubs charged right past the New York Giants into second place yesterday and today scored a mere eight and one-half games to the rear of the high-flying Cardinals. The Giants, splitting a double with the Braves, fell into third place a full game behind the Cubs.

Malone in Rare Form
Pat Malone turned in one of his very best performances in the opener against the Braves which the Cubs won, 6-1. Malone allowed only three singles while his mates pounded Cunningham and Cantwell for ten. The fortunes of war shifted swiftly for the Braves.

They led in the eighth, but were held scoreless until the sixth when they staged a rally that netted three runs. They again scored a run in each of the final two innings. The Club team was not faring so well on Bourassa's offerings and was held scoreless until the sixth inning when Gossens drove out a home run. They again scored a run in the final frame.

The batteries for the Aces, Bourassa pitching, R. Schwane catching; for the Club team Van Elsen pitching and V. Courchane catching.

Kimberly Aces Win Village Ball Title
Kimberly—The final game of the championship play off was played Monday evening at the ball park. The Kimberly Aces proved too strong for the Kimberly Club team and with their 6 to 2 win of the final game became the Village champs.

The winners out played and out hit the Club team throughout the game, and the support they gave Bourassa, pitcher, was nothing short of perfect. A quiet crowd witnessed the final of the nightcap.

Brooklyn lost more ground as the Cincinnati Reds took two games, 4-1 and 8-3, behind great pitching by Elias Johnson and Owen Carroll. Johnson allowed only five hits in the opener and Carroll gave up only six in the second game.

French Stops Phils
Larry French, Pittsburgh Pirate southpaw, stopped the Phillies, 4-2 in the first game of a double header, allowing only six hits, but Phil Collins gave the Quakers an even break by blanking the Corsairs, 9-0, in the nightcap. Collins allowed eight hits but was effective in the pinches.

In the American league, the New York Yankees, holding third place, fell to a position five games from the Washington Senators and 16 from the Philadelphia Athletics by accepting an 8-2 trimming from Detroit. The Tigers made good use of ten hits of Ed Wells while the Yankees made only seven scattered blows off Vic Sorrell. Dale Alexander led the Tiger attack with two doubles and a single.

An early attack on Pat Caraway gave the Boston Red Sox a 3-2 decision over the Chicago White Sox. Weiland pitched good relief but for Chicago but to no avail in the face of an eight-inning hurling performance by Jack Russell of the Red Sox.

All other American league clubs had an off day.

FAVORITES WIN AT NET TOURNAY

Helen Wills Moody, Helen Jacobs, Betty Nuthall Cop Easily

Forest Hills, N. Y. — (CP) — The women's national tennis championships moved into the second round today with 15 of the 16 seeded players still in the running.

The only seeded star eliminated in the first round yesterday was the Baroness Glascow. Lady of Rome and New York seeded eighth in the foreign list. The Baroness had the misfortune of catching Virginia Hillyear just when the Philadelphia girl and No. 4 in the national ranking reached top form. The result was a 6-3, 6-4 victory for Miss Hillyear.

All the other favorites, including Mrs. Helen Wills Moody of San Francisco, Helen Jacobs of Berkeley, Calif., and Betty Nuthall and Phyllis Mudford of England came through without trouble.

Mrs. Moody swept through Edith Signourney of Boston without the loss of a game; Miss Jacobs dropped four games, two in each set, in beating Mae Courvorst of Wichita, Kas. Miss Nuthall, who won the title last year when Mrs. Moody elected to remain in California, defeated New York's seeded eighth at Garden City, N. Y. 6-2, 6-1, and Miss Mudford eliminated Mrs. Anna Fuller Hubbard of Lancaster, Mass., 6-3, 6-4.

DAVE SHADE EASILY OUTPOINTS OSTER

Chicago — (CP) — Dave Shade, Carper, California middleweight, has scored a sneak on the National Boxing association's elimination tournament for the purpose of locating a successor to former champion Mickey Walker by taking care of Willie Oster of Boston in a frame.

Shade last night easily outpointed Wild Willie in a ten round bout at White City, taking nine rounds. The elimination tournament will officially start at Milwaukee Aug. 26, with three bouts. Tak Littman, Cudahy, will meet Ham Jenkins of Denver; Gorilla Jones, Akron, O., will tackle Tiger Thomas, Leipsville, Pa., and Rudy Marshall, Hartford, Conn., will meet Clyde Chastain of Texas.

N. B. A. TO EXAMINE SCHMELING'S EYE

Investigation Will Be Made at Request of Italian Heavyweight

New York — (CP) — On behalf of Madison Square Garden of Illinois, the National Boxing Association will conduct an inquiry into the seriousness of the injury Max Schmeling, heavyweight champion, says will prevent him from meeting Primo Carnera or anybody else this year.

The investigation will be conducted through N. B. A. affiliates in Germany.

William F. Carey, president of the New York Garden, said the investigation was to be made at Carnera's request. The Illinois Garden has Carnera under contract to meet Schmeling and posted a $50,000 bond to guarantee that the match would go through before the contract expires Sept. 30. Schmeling recently cabled from Germany that an injured eye would keep him out of the ring for some months.

Carey revealed at the same time that the Garden will make no effort to halt the proposed bout between Carnera and Jack Sharkey at Ebbets Field, Sept. 23 under the promotion of Jimmy Johnston. He said that if Schmeling's eye injury is certified by an N. B. A. official, thus releasing the Illinois Garden from the $50,000 bond, the giant Italian would receive a release from his contract.

KIMBERLY ACES WIN VILLAGE BALL TITLE

Kimberly—The final game of the championship play off was played Monday evening at the ball park. The Kimberly Aces proved too strong for the Kimberly Club team and with their 6 to 2 win of the final game became the Village champs.

The winners out played and out hit the Club team throughout the game, and the support they gave Bourassa, pitcher, was nothing short of perfect. A quiet crowd witnessed the final of the nightcap.

Brooklyn lost more ground as the Cincinnati Reds took two games, 4-1 and 8-3, behind great pitching by Elias Johnson and Owen Carroll. Johnson allowed only five hits in the opener and Carroll gave up only six in the second game.

French Stops Phils
Larry French, Pittsburgh Pirate southpaw, stopped the Phillies, 4-2 in the first game of a double header, allowing only six hits, but Phil Collins gave the Quakers an even break by blanking the Corsairs, 9-0, in the nightcap. Collins allowed eight hits but was effective in the pinches.

In the American league, the New York Yankees, holding third place, fell to a position five games from the Washington Senators and 16 from the Philadelphia Athletics by accepting an 8-2 trimming from Detroit. The Tigers made good use of ten hits of Ed Wells while the Yankees made only seven scattered blows off Vic Sorrell. Dale Alexander led the Tiger attack with two doubles and a single.

An early attack on Pat Caraway gave the Boston Red Sox a 3-2 decision over the Chicago White Sox. Weiland pitched good relief but for Chicago but to no avail in the face of an eight-inning hurling performance by Jack Russell of the Red Sox.

All other American league clubs had an off day.

Nothing Mysterious In Football: Judge Steffen

BY FRANCIS J. POWERS
Copyright, 1931

CHICAGO — (CPA) — Judge Walter Steffen, whose coaching genius has lifted the Tartan of Carnegie Tech high on the ramparts of football, sheared away much of the mystery and hokum that has enveloped the game for the benefit of a class of young coaches at North western University.

"There is nothing so mysterious in football," declared the Chicago jurist and one time Maroon star. "All a coach can do is try to develop the strongest type of play for the material at his disposal. If successful in developing some plays that are difficult to stop, deception comes easily from slight variations of those."

To prove the truth of that fundamental, he cited the talk of mystery and magic that surrounded the Notre Dame offense at the time the Four Horsemen rode the winds for Knute Rockne.

Some theorist, after collecting a mass of data, came to the conclusion that the secret of Notre Dame's tussle and the grand stands were filled in just about the same style they were last Sunday at the Shawna game.

The Aces scored their first run in the third inning. They then were held scoreless until the sixth when they staged a rally that netted three runs. They again scored a run in each of the final two innings. The Club team was not faring so well on Bourassa's offerings and was held scoreless until the sixth inning when Gossens drove out a home run. They again scored a run in the final frame.

The batteries for the Aces, Bourassa pitching, R. Schwane catching; for the Club team Van Elsen pitching and V. Courchane catching.

No Over-Emphasis
The Carnegie Tech coach also took a whack at those who still claim over-emphasis of college football. "They miss the essential spirit of the game," continued Steffen. "The thing for which we love football is the spirit in which the boys play. The value of this spirit to the boys themselves and to the public that participates with so much enthusiasm is entirely overlooked by the opponents of the sport."

Complete 17 Passes
Carnegie Tech was playing Notre Dame and accepting the theorist's discovery as having probable worth, the Tartan coaches built a defense on that basis. In the third period of the game, Notre Dame completed 17 passes against Carnegie, using none of the mystical offense against which the Scots had prepared.

"We over-emphasized and magnified their attack," related Judge Steffen. "We had built up a defense for something that did not exist. The secret of the Four Horsemen's defense was a powerful running attack that was hard to stop. Because of that they could use sweeping end runs, cut-backs and Stuhldreher's uncanny passing skill with devastating effect."

Steffen traced the origin of the spin play, on which Carnegie Tech became so efficient, to an accidental play of an opponent. The Tech coaches saw the possibilities of the spinner and worked it into their offense and it quickly became one of their most powerful weapons. He also told of the many letters he annually receives from young coaches asking for a sure fire trick play with which they could beat some outstanding rival. "There is no such short cut to victory in football," was his invariable reply to such queries.

FIVE hits, some dizzy fielding and wildness on the part of Werley, Merchant pitcher, gave Tustin club of the Central Wisconsin league, eight runs in one frame Sunday afternoon and there by an 8 and 1 victory over the locals. The defeat shunted the Appleton club down into fourth place in standings.

Previous to the blow up the Merchants and Tustin had battled on even terms, neither team scoring. Then came the riot and when it was over Tustin was on the mound for Appleton and set the invaders down in regular order. The Merchants scored their lone tally in the sixth inning. However, their bats were mighty weak and only in the sixth frame did they launch hits. Each team connected for six fastballs.

New London hung up another win by defeating Weyauwega, 15 to 5. The Romain was on the hill until the seventh when rescued by Dutch Wahl. Shiocton turned in one of its good games and swamped Readfield, 14 and 4. Readfield lead until the seventh when Shiocton got to Edminister and pounded him from the hill. He was relieved by Wing who fared no better.

CHAPMAN, REYNOLDS TO COMPETE IN DASH

Chicago—(AP)—A foot race at 100 yards between Ben Chapman of the New York Yankees, the leading base stealer of the major leagues, and Carl Reynolds, best White Sox outfielder, will be held during the Yankee-Sox series next week.

The Yankees, Babe Ruth particularly, think Chapman is the fastest man in the American league, while the White Sox believe Reynolds can outfoot him on the straightaway.

Ruth recently won himself a good sized bet backing Chapman against Allen "Dusty" Cooke, a teammate at 100 yards.

INJURY JINX AGAIN ON WHITE SOX TRAIL

Chicago—(AP)—Just about the time manager Donie Bush of the White Sox, was beginning to think the injury jinx had departed, back it popped and outfielder Johnny Watwood was lost for two weeks.

Watwood suffered a wrenched muscle in his back during Sunday's doubleheader with Boston, and an examination yesterday revealed that the injury is serious enough to keep him out of uniform for a fortnight.

White Sox manager, recently obtained from the Western association will sit in for Watwood.

Sports Question Box

Q.—Did the Yale varsity crew row a Seattle this summer?
A.—No, it was a lightweight crew known as the 150-pound eight.

Q.—Is the draft rule uniform in baseball? By that I mean can the minor leagues draft players from the major leagues?
A.—They cannot. A minor league can draft from another minor league of lower classification.

Q.—How many world's titles are now held by foreigners? Who are they?
A.—Three. Bantam by Al Brown, of Panama; Junior Lightweight by Kid Chocolate, of Cuba, and heavyweight by Max Schmeling of Germany.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—
LEFTY O'DOUL, caught in a reminiscent mood, lamented that the old days of class distinction were better for a ball club than the fraternizing spirit of today. Lefty, you see, broke in when Frank Baker, Piz Bodie, Wally Pipp, Truck Hannan, Del Pratt and some more two-fisted guys ruled the Yankee roost. O'Doul also regrets that a fellow can't so much as look crossed-eyed at an umpire these times. Three lines and a five-day suspension this season indicate that Lefty's conduct is after the manner of the oldtimers. The Brooklyn slugger was set back something like $750, which is a stiff price to pay for a little siding of opinion.

HAMMEN gave Menasha Falcons of the Winnebago league eight hits Sunday afternoon at Brandt park and with his mates pounded the pill for 13 safe blows, the Noffke Fuels won another ball game. The score was 8 and 3. Hammen was opposed by Zenevski who struck out three compared to the 12 whiffed by the Fuel hurler.

Three home runs featured the game. Strutz and Ellis of the Appleton club connected for the circuit while J. Sheleski hit one for Menasha. Levandoski pounded out the only two bagger of the afternoon for Menasha.

Menasha scored one run in the first inning and Appleton countered with two in the fourth. In the sixth, Appleton picked up another tally to take the lead and then went out and punched five runs over the rubber in the eighth to put the game away for keeps. H. Ellis' home run featured during the batting spree.

The Falcons counted their last score in the ninth when Sheleski hit for the circuit.

SWISS AIR NAVY
Geneva—Many have been the jokes on the "Swiss Navy" but they can't be very played on the Swiss aviation fleet, because there is one. The Swiss are taking rapidly to aviation, despite the mountainous location of the country and more than 150 licensed pilots are now listed in the country. This figure does not include student and military pilots.

DANCE DARBOY, THUR.

WALES SEEKS NEW THRILLS IN MOTOR BOATING AS HOBBY

Two Speedcrafts Constructed at Birmingham for Prince of Wales

London—(AP)—The Prince of Wales growing older but seeking new thrills, has taken up motorboating. Friends say he dreams, talks and lives motorboats.

Two new boats, constructed with superspeed four cycle engines, have been constructed at Birmingham for delivery to the Prince of Wales, in Sussex. These, with flying and motor-friends, he expects to taste the sensation of speed on water.

The new hobby goes back to a house party about the first of July, when Captain John Palethorpe, one of the makers of Dab III, an extraordinarily fast British boat, was demonstrating the craft in an artificial lake in front of Himley Hall, Dudley, Worcestershire.

The prince, long fond of speed in all forms, asked to take the controls. He was very apt and soon could pilot her at 40 miles an hour. Although he laughed at warnings that a fast turn would throw him into the water unless made with perfect precision, he wore a life belt, in deference to the wishes of the experts and his royal position.

After returning to Windsor he had Captain Palethorpe send down a small hydroplane of shallow draught designed purely for racing purposes and since has cruised about the lake at Windsor Park in his bathing suit, lying flat on the bottom, manipulating controls with his feet and grasping the steering wheel with both hands. Prince George also has learned to pilot the small craft.

It was after these spurs in the hydroplane that the prince decided he would like some boats of his own and ordered two copies of Dab III, which he will moor within a few yards of Smith's lawn, where his private aerodrome is located. "He shows extraordinary skill at the wheel," Captain Palethorpe said. "There is no doubt that he has a splendid knowledge of speed."

ACQUIRE LAND FOR VIADUCT APPROACHES

Five parcels of land have been acquired by the Winnebago highway department for the right-of-way needed for the approaches to the overhead crossing at the intersection of Highway 25 and the Soo Line railroad tracks, south of Oshkosh. This highway is used considerably by Appleton people who make trips to Oshkosh or Fond du Lac. Bids for constructing the approaches to the overhead have not yet been called for. It is believed they will not be sought until the overhead has progressed further.

MOON OF DELIGHT

by Margaret Bell Houston

Next to the marquessa sat the dark man with the unhappy eyes. He lifted his glass as Juanita looked, and the marquessa lifted hers. Juanita had never seen the marquessa drink before.

Fitz had started the phonograph, since he couldn't have the radio. "How's Eric?" somebody asked him as he took his seat.

Fitz didn't know. Eric was to have been home by the tenth, but the tenth had come and gone.

"Must find the Moon of Delight rather fascinating," remarked Phyllis Carver, the blonde girl in the green riding suit. She sat at the table's end, opposite Adrian.

"Who says he's gone with the Moon?" asked Fitz.

"Who says he's not?" demanded Phyllis. "Didn't I lose ten dollars on her?"

"Still howling about your ten," Fitz remarked. "That don't prove he's with her now."

"Nothing proves anything, Fitz darling," the lady agreed amiably. "But given Eric and a wild woman whom he's undoubtedly dippy over; given Eric gone and the wild woman gone -"

"What's the Moon of Delight?" Juanita asked.

"The question was low, but it came in a pause of the talk while Fitz was changing a record. Naida Preston heard it and answered, lighting a cigarette:

"Moon of Delight is a horse. Just won the handicap."

Everybody laughed. "Naida's game all right," Adrian said to Bettina Byrnes on his left. To Juanita, he replied, "Moon of Delight is the name Eric Leabetter gave to the girl."

Kirk spoke up. "Juanita has never been to Divit's," he said.

"That so?" from Adrian. "There's a Turkish girl there who has never told her name. So Eric christened her Moon of Delight. Suits her, too. Wouldn't you say so, Rod?"

"How do I know?" said Rod.

"Turkish nothing," said Bettina on Rod's right. "I'll bet she grew up right there in French Town. Eric told me she spoke to him in a mixture of Spanish and English."

"That was the night I lost my ten," said Phyllis, who was drinking with Dick Preston now. "Eric went out after her one night at Divit's, but he wouldn't come back - and he didn't."

"Ask Adrian what the Moon speaks," cried Emmy Jean. "Does she make love in English, Adrian?"

"Ask any of the men," said Doreen Larkin. "As Kirk."

"She never looked at me," said Kirk. "And never spoke to me. All I ever got was a flower she gave Nelly."

"Naida would say that," groaned Phyllis.

"Shall we dance?" Adrian asked Juanita. She shook her head. Kirk laid his hand over hers in the shadow of the table.

"Fell all right?" he asked.

"You aren't drinking your wife?" Adrian remarked and poured it into her coffee.

"Now look at the mess you've made," said Doreen Larkin on Kirk's other side. "Come on, Dancer. And she caught Kirk's hand. His other hand gave Juanita's fingers a quick pressure. She watched him dancing the haze of cigarette smoke, changing with Doreen."

"Sure you won't dance?" Adrian's voice again.

Again she shook her head. Adrian went off with Bettina. Emmy Jean came from the other side of the table and took Adrian's vacant chair. Phyllis called from the table's foot.

"You the host now, Emmy Jean? Order some wine?"

The wine appeared. Scarcely aware of what she saw, Juanita watched the marquessa raise her glass. The marquessa was laughing incessantly. Moon of Delight... Divit's. And only yesterday Divit's had been like a dream to Juanita. Only this morning she had suddenly thought, "I had almost forgotten there was such a place."

But now it all came back to her, Eric Leabetter... his bet with Phyllis that he would see the Moon... they called her - and wouldn't come back. So that was what they thought about her when he didn't. Perhaps Kirk thought so too.

Tangled romances... Juanita learns tomorrow that others are mixed up too. Then Kirk's question!

DENIES RUMORS OF ADDITION TO THILMANY MILL

Turbine Room Only Is Being Rebuilt, M. A. Wertheimer Declares

Kaukauna—Rumors of construction of a large addition to the Thilmany Pulp and Paper Co. here today were reported as false by M. A. Wertheimer of the Thilmany mill here.

"There will be no new building," he said, "but rebuilding of an old turbine room has been going on since plans for the removal of the Appleton plant were announced, nearly a month ago."

Two machines will be installed at the local plant here about the first of the year, and this calls for improvements in the turbine room. The improvement in the building, according to present plans, will call for some concrete work. The materials will be purchased from local dealers, he pointed out.

About 75 employees of the Wisconsin Tissue mill at Appleton will be affected by the change when the machines from the Appleton plant are moved into the local plant. However, the former employees will be given preference when the machines start operation here, according to Mr. Wertheimer. The change was made because of greater economy of operation, Mr. Wertheimer stated.

MANY FARMERS ARE PLANNING TO PLANT EMERGENCY CROPS

Rye and Winter Wheat Are Favored for Spring Pasture

BY W. F. WINSEY

On account of spring seedlings of sweet clover and alfalfa being injured or destroyed by the hot winds and drouth the past spring and this summer, some farmers are planning on the planting of emergency pasture crops at once. The crops that are favored by most farmers are rye and winter wheat. A few of the farmers expected to try the winter wheat or rye as a nurse for sweet clover or alfalfa with the hope that the protection of the rye or winter wheat will carry the alfalfa or sweet clover through the winter. Still other farmers are sowing sweet clover or alfalfa in spots in their fields where the drouth has killed the spring seedlings. These farmers are covering the seed with light harrows or rotary hoes.

Old stands of alfalfa stripped of leaves by the drouth or grasshoppers will show up again after a soaking rain as the roots of the plants are deeply seated and are alive. It is likely that most of the spring seedlings of sweet clover will also show up as a result of a series of showers.

Winter wheat and rye supplied a large number of herds with pasture last fall and again last spring. Although the crops grew quite rapidly they were pastured quite closely, spring and fall.

It is worthwhile for the farmer who experiments with rye and winter wheat as emergency pastures to experience much sweet clover in the same fields with the expectation of the sweet clover furnishing pasture next spring after the rye or winter wheat is worn out by pasturing.

OIL PLANE ENGINE

Berlin—The Deutsche Luft Hansa German aviation organization has been conducting extensive tests with an airplane engine burning heavy oil as fuel. The designer of the engine claims that the heavy oil engine will lessen the danger of fire and effect a saving of 65 per cent in the cost of fuel, and increase the radius of a plane using it from 2,500 to 3,675 miles.

Botanists have figured that a bushels of wheat contains 556,000 grains, a bushel of rye 888,000, and a bushel of clover 16,400,000.

Only 48 Per Cent Normal, Survey Shows Low for 20 Years

Madison —(AP)—Pastures in Wisconsin on the first of August were reported as 48 per cent of normal, the lowest condition in 20 years, according to the Wisconsin crop reporting service. Nearly the entire state reports unsatisfactory pasture conditions. This is, of course, as a result of a combination of unfavorable weather a year ago when drought destroyed much of the grass and clover seedlings, as well as the dry hot weather of this year.

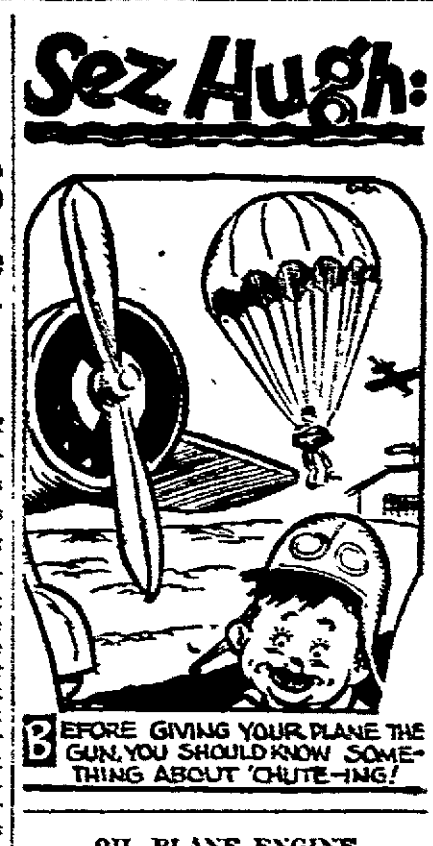

Fruits have had a more favorable season than last year when late spring frosts did much damage. The total production of apples for Wisconsin is estimated at 1,564,000 bushels as compared with the low production of 258,000 a year ago. Apples are also making a larger production this year in the United States, the crop being estimated at nearly 215 million bushels as compared with a rather small crop of 163 million bushels last year. Commercial apples in the country as a whole are estimated at 25,722,000 bushels as compared with 21,722,000 bushels a year ago.

Onion production in Wisconsin is placed at 226,000 bushels as compared with the 1928 total of 263,000. The condition of the Wisconsin crop this year is reported as 70 per cent of normal compared with 77 per cent a year ago and a ten-year average of 79. The onion crop of the United States will be very much smaller this year than last. The production is now estimated at 13,846,000 bushels or 31 per cent less than the crop of 20,135,000 bushels of last year.

CANCEL AIR MAIL

Ottawa—All transcontinental air mail flights in Canada will be cancelled within the next few months because of heavy deficits in the Canadian postal operations, it is reported. Prime Minister Bennett issued the order after a survey of the postal department showed a deficit for the past fiscal year of about $6,000,000. Two lines, that between Montreal and Albany, N. Y., and the Rimouski-Montreal line, will be continued.

The condition of the Wisconsin crop this year is reported as 70 per cent of normal compared with 77 per cent a year ago and a ten-year average of 79. The onion crop of the United States will be very much smaller this year than last. The production is now estimated at 13,846,000 bushels or 31 per cent less than the crop of 20,135,000 bushels of last year.

CANCEL AIR MAIL

Ottawa—All transcontinental air mail flights in Canada will be cancelled within the next few months because of heavy deficits in the Canadian postal operations, it is reported. Prime Minister Bennett issued the order after a survey of the postal department showed a deficit for the past fiscal year of about $6,000,000. Two lines, that between Montreal and Albany, N. Y., and the Rimouski-Montreal line, will be continued.

Only 48 Per Cent Normal, Survey Shows Low for 20 Years

Madison —(AP)—Pastures in Wisconsin on the first of August were reported as 48 per cent of normal, the lowest condition in 20 years, according to the Wisconsin crop reporting service. Nearly the entire state reports unsatisfactory pasture conditions. This is, of course, as a result of a combination of unfavorable weather a year ago when drought destroyed much of the grass and clover seedlings, as well as the dry hot weather of this year.

Fruits have had a more favorable season than last year when late spring frosts did much damage. The total production of apples for Wisconsin is estimated at 1,564,000 bushels as compared with the low production of 258,000 a year ago. Apples are also making a larger production this year in the United States, the crop being estimated at nearly 215 million bushels as compared with a rather small crop of 163 million bushels last year. Commercial apples in the country as a whole are estimated at 25,722,000 bushels as compared with 21,722,000 bushels a year ago.

Onion production in Wisconsin is placed at 226,000 bushels as compared with the 1928 total of 263,000. The condition of the Wisconsin crop this year is reported as 70 per cent of normal compared with 77 per cent a year ago and a ten-year average of 79. ROMANCE LURKS IN TEXAS GIRL'S PRINCELY HOME

Principality into Which American Girl Wed Is Only 65 Miles Square

BY CHARLES STEPHENSON
SMITH

Liechtenstein, the Alpine principality which leaped into the news in the United States through the marriage in London of Prince Johann of Liechtenstein to Miss Helena McFarland, of Weatherford, Texas, recalls the heyday of Anthony Hope and his Ruritania stories and plays. Romance lurks in every corner of this little principality bordered by the Rhine, wedged in between Austria and Switzerland and studded with stage mountains which rise to a height of over 8,000 feet. The principality is only 65 square miles in area. It has only about 11,000 inhabitants, and its capital, Vaduz, is a village of less than 2,000. Although the principality was not founded until 1719, the ruling family dates back to the thirteenth century.

Land Of Yodlers
Liechtenstein was part of the Holy Roman Empire. In the early years of the nineteenth century it was included in the Rhine Federation and from 1815 until 1866 it was in the German Federation. Since 1866 it has been wholly independent and without any army.

Despite the lack of military uniforms there is plenty of picturesque background. That is supplied by the standardized garb of civil employes and the colorful peasant costumes fashioned after those of the Austrian-Tyrol. It is a land of yodlers and shepherds and wine-growers, a land of corn, cattle and sheep.

Prince Johann, who is expected to visit the United States with his bride, is of the third line of descent in the royal family. The present ruler, Prince Francis, is 73 years old and has no children. He was a bachelor until a year ago. But the second line of succession contains a score of princes of all ages, so there is little likelihood that Prince Johann will ever rule the tiny realm.

Neutral In War
Prince Johann was formerly an Austrian midshipman. Until 1919 Liechtenstein was closely allied with Austria. It adopted Swiss currency in 1921 and has been in the Swiss Customs Union for seven years. Switzerland also administers its telegraph and postal service.

In the great war Liechtenstein declared its neutrality, but Austria declared it within the war zone. The little principality tried to get into the League of Nations, but was rejected. It suffered terrible economic depression as a result of isolation during the war.

Prince Francis I, the present ruler, succeeded his brother in 1929 and gave up all his estate except 22 castles before he ascended the throne.

33-TON LOAD TESTS PLANE WING-TIPS

Airplane's Strength Checked by Sandbag Tests from Nose-tip to Tail

Washington—(AP)—Thirty-three tons of sand piled on an airplane wing without breaking it—such is the strength built into a modern passenger airplane.

"The hardest tests an airplane can encounter in every-day flying are dwarfed by the government standards to which it must measure," says R. C. Gatzky, chief of the engineering section of the commerce department's aeronautics branch.

"From nose-tip to tail, an airplane's strength is checked by sand-bag tests, mathematical analysis, or dropping. There is no guess-work about the airworthiness of commercial airplanes."

He singled out a typical modern multi-engine ship, weighing 15,000 pounds fully loaded with passengers and baggage, as an illustration.

"Its wings must be able to support a load of 33 tons," he says. "They must support their load on the underside in flight; therefore they are hung upside down from their fuselage fittings. Sand-bags are piled on evenly to the full 33 tons and for nearly half an hour, while readings are taken, the wing must stand up."

"This insures a margin of safety of about twice the strain experienced in the bumpiest air."
